No.69-D2/46-2, dated 2nd February 1946.

Sir,
Stationery - waste paper collection in the Commission's office - Disposal.

I am to say that the used answer books in the Commission's office after being preserved for six or twelve months, as the case may be, after the close of each set of the written examinations conducted by the Commission, are examined at the end of that period to see whether they contain any unused sheets or pages. Such of the sheets of paper as have not been written upon on one side or both sides are removed and used for noting, drafting and other useful purposes. The sheets which have been written upon on both sides are now sold as waste paper to the Salvation Army in accordance with G.O. No.855, Education, dated 6-6-1945.

The Mother Superior of the Little Flower Convent, Teynampet, which runs a school for the Blind, Deaf and Dumb and whose buildings were rented by the Commission for its office until the end of last year, has requested that some of the waste paper written upon on both sides now sold to the Salvation Army, may be given to her free of cost for the use of the blind pupils of the school. The Commission understands that these used sheets will be stitched into notebooks for the printing of braille types for the use of the blind children.

The Commission recommends that the Mother Superior's request be granted and that sanction be accorded for the handing over to her annually free of cost of as many of the used sheets as she may require. The balance left will be sold to the Salvation Army.

Your obedient servant,

C. C. Chetty
Secretary.
