Sir,

Elementary Education--Compulsory--Introduction of the scheme in certain villages--1946-47--Coimbatore District Reference:-Government Memorandum No.36071-B2-Edn., dated 15..8..1946.

Copy. on pp 13-14 infra

I have the honour to state that the President, District Board, Coimbatore, was requested to obtain and forward a resolution of the District Board on the lines indicated in the Government Memorandum quoted above. But the District Board has unanimously resolved at its special meeting held on 24.9.1946 that the five villages under reference viz. Arachalur, Palayani, Elavanthy, Alangiam, and Dhalavoipalayam, should be included in the list of villages selected for the introduction of compulsion - vide letter of the President, District Board, Coimbatore, R.O.C.No.7820-E2/46 dated 28.9.1946 enclosing a copy of the resolution.

p 14 infra

p 10 infra

2. Since the number of children to be brought under instruction fixed ~~by~~ for the district in the Government Memorandum No. 50062 B2-45-6 Education dated 11.3.1946 is only 14,800, the inclusion of the above five villages will not be possible unless some of the villages already proposed are left out. In this connection, kind attention of Government is invited to the copy of the resolution of the District Board passed at its special meeting dated 28.5.1946, in which the District Board has resolved that if some of the villages were to be left out to include the above five centres, they must be left out in the same taluk or in the taluk where more centres or more number of pupils are served - vide copy of the resolution enclosed with my letter Roc. No.294 B1/46 dated 4.7.1946. In the circumstances I suggest that a revised resolution of the District Board may be obtained including the 5 villages in question and deleting from the list already prepared as many villages as are necessary to give a population of 14,800 children of school-age to be brought under instruction in the district.

pp 2-3 ante

p 1 ante

3. Besides the above, the Hon'ble Minister for Education has forwarded a representation by some of the District Board members with a note on it. Those members have approached him with the request that the five centres mentioned above may be included in the scheme of compulsion to be introduced in 1946-47 since they are very backward in education. The remarks of the District Educational Officer, Coimbatore, on the note of Hon'ble Minister are awaited. The step suggested by me alone will however meet the wishes of the people of the 5 villages.

My dear Sir,

REF:-Your Note dated 19-9-1946 on the representation made by some of the District Board Members, Coimbatore, re: introduction of compulsory elementary education in 1946-47.

In re-submitting herewith your note mentioned above, I have the honour to state the following for your information.

The District Board, Coimbatore, agreed to the introduction of compulsion in 10 villages selected by the District Educational Officer, Coimbatore, during the year 1946-47. In addition, they also suggested that the 5 villages referred to in in the representation made to you, might also be included in the list of centres deleting if necessary some other villages selected by the District Educational Officer so as not to exceed the number of pupils yet to be brought under instruction during the current year in the district. The number of pupils of school-age to be brought under instruction as fixed by Government was 14,800.

The ten centres as agreed to by the District Educational Officer and the President, District Board, were recommended by me. As the inclusion of the five villages would increase the number of children to be brought under instruction as fixed by Government, it was proposed to Government that they might be omitted now and might be considered in connexion with the scheme for 1947-48 if necessary. Government, therefore, directed me that a revised resolution agreeing to delete the five villages might be obtained from the District Board and submitted to them. The District Board has again reiterated its former recommendations that the five villages should necessarily be included in the current year. A copy of this resolution was submitted to Government, and at the same time it was suggested to Government that a revised resolution of the District Board might be obtained including the five villages in question and deleting from the list already submitted as many villages as were necessary to give a population of 14,800 of school-age children yet to be brought under instruction in the district. The reply from Government is awaited.

In this connection, I submit herewith a copy of the letter of the District Educational Officer on the subject dated 28-9-1946. Instructions were issued to the District Educational Officers that as far as possible, big centres where there were sufficient number of schools and where additional accommodation could be easily provided to take in the additional number of school-age pupils that would be enrolled when compulsion was introduced, must be selected. In consonance with these instructions, the 10 centres first recommended to Government were proposed by the District Educational Officer. As it was found that by the inclusion of the five villages, the maximum number for the district would be exceeded, and in view of the fact that all these centres are comparatively very small, their inclusion in the scheme was not recommended. It cannot also be said as represented by the District Board members to you that if these centres were deleted, four taluks would be completely denied the benefits of compulsory elementary education. The taluks of Erode, Palladam and Kollegal have already had the benefits of the scheme to a large extent during 1945-46. Besides, the selection of smaller centres where the success of working the scheme is doubtful, were not considered.

However, despite the position explained above, if the Government are agreeable to the inclusion of the five centres as already suggested by me, these five villages will have the benefit of compulsion even this year.

Yours sincerely,

S K Savon.

Sir,

Sub: Education - Elementary - Compulsory - Introduction of the scheme in certain centres - 1946--47 - Proposals.

Ref: Your Ref: R.C.No.305--B.1/46 dated 7-12-46 and R.C.No.39--C/46 dated 14-12-46 of the District Educational Officer, Coimbatore.

The name of the subsidiary centre under the main centre Kaniyur village in Udamalpet Taluk proposed for the introduction of Compulsory Elementary Education during the year 1946--47 in the District is "Solamadevi" and not "Somadevi". "Somadevi" is an error in my reference quoted above. Similarly, the name "Dhalavoipalayam" is an error for "Dhalavoipatnam" in Dharapuram Taluk.

Thirumalayampalayam and Sennakalpalayam are hamlets of Dhalavoipatnam village and as the proposals are in respect of the whole of the Revenue village Dhalavoipatnam, the hamlets are also included in the scheme.

Jallipatti in Udamalpet Taluk now proposed for the introduction of the scheme is only a Revenue Village and not a Punchayat area.
