My dear Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. regarding the appointment of a Principal for the Government College, Kumbhakonam.

I am sorry to hear that you are unable to visit the college. I understand that you are very busy with your other engagements.

I am, however, glad to hear that you are interested in the college and its progress. I have a suggestion to make to you regarding the appointment of a Principal.

In all first grade government colleges in the Presidency there is one gazetted officer as the head of each important department. In the case of the English department each college has two gazetted officers and the Presidency college has four. This is the legacy of the times when practically all Principals were Englishmen and wanted an Indian H.E.S. officer to run the department for them. Now that person does not exist. Further, most of the students take up B.Sc. and as a result the English teaching has been reduced. If a gazetted officer were to be sent for posts will have to be created for

Sir,

Sub: Madras Educational Service - Suggestions to retrench
 Gazetted staff of English Departments of Government Colleges.

Ref: Government Memo No. 76239 A-1 dated 17-12-46.

I have the honour to enclose a copy of my D.O.
 letter, dated 8-2-47 to the Vice-Chancellor, University of Madras and the latter's reply A.1765 dated 22-4-47.
 It will be seen that the Vice-Chancellor is obviously unwilling that the number of Lecturers in English should be reduced as suggested.

2. I am of opinion that in each Government College teaching any subject upto the B.A. or B.Sc. standard, there should be one lecturer of the Madras Educational Service grade for that subject excluding the Principal who has also to look after the general administration and supervision of all the Departments. Thus, for example, in a College in which the Principal teaches English, there will be two lecturers in English while in another where the Principal is teaching any other subject, there will be two lecturers in that subject, but only one Madras Educational Service Lecturer in English. This may involve the re-shuffling of the lecturers of the Madras Educational Service Grade according to the circumstances of the case, but will not reduce the number in the Madras Educational Service cadre. But so far as the Presidency College is concerned it teaches up to the Honours standard and conditions there are therefore very much different and the present number of Professors in English cannot be reduced without serious loss of inefficiency. Moreover the Principal of Presidency College is not expected to do much lecturing work and has an additional Professor to help him in the subject of his speciality.

In a reference from Government I have been asked to send my remarks on the proposal contained in the following extract:-

"In all first grade Government College in this Presidency there is one gazetted Officer at the

 the English department each College has two Gazetted is the legacy of the time when practically all

Now that reason does not exist. Further now most of students take up B.Sc. and so the English teaching has been reduced. Since gazetted posts will have to be created for regional languages, I suggest that in future there should be only one gazetted post for English in each first grade Government College and the other post may be reduced to the S.E.S. cadre the money thus saved may be used for the promotion of regional languages."

It has also been pointed out that according to the University rules, each Department of a Pass College should have one head of the Department of the grade of a Professor or Lecturer and the rest of the teaching staff may be of lower grades and further that there is no much distinction in the work done by the M.E.S. and S.E.S. Officers.

Although I am personally of the opinion that the total number of personnel in the Gazetted staff of the various colleges should not be decreased, in order to meet the suggestions made in the previous paragraph, to avoid differentiation between various subjects and to prevent a chain of transfers, when a Principal retires, I am thinking of making the following proposal. I shall be helped very much if you could kindly send me your personal remarks on the following proposal. In each Government College teaching any subject up to the B.A. or B.S.C. standard there should be one lecturer of the M.E.S. grade for that subject excluding the Principal who has also to look after the general administration and supervision of all the Departments. Thus, for example in a College in which the Principal teaches English, there will be two lecturers in English while in another where the Principal is teaching any other subject, there will be two lecturers in that subject, but only one M.E.S. lecturer in English. This may involve the reshuffling of the lecturers of the M.E.S. grade according to the circumstances of the case but will not reduce the number in the M.E.S. Cadre.

I shall be greatly obliged if you could kindly send me your personal remarks on the above proposal as early as possible.

With my best regards.

Copy of letter dated 22nd April 1947 of the Vice Chancellor of the Madras University to the Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

I am in receipt of your D.O. dated the 20th April enclosing a copy of the letter dated the 8th February, which you had already sent me. I must apologise for not having replied to it earlier.

I am afraid, I do not feel that I should enter into any comment regarding the suggestions made in the extract you have quoted. I can only deal with the academic aspects of the question. The need for efficient teaching of English in the College courses will, in my opinion, be greater rather than less in the future, and I hold that competent teachers must be attracted to the teaching posts. You know my opinion that at present the teaching profession is not able to get the most competent persons for this purpose, because of the poor remuneration offered to the majority of the posts. It is for this reason more than for anything else that our students suffer in comparison with the students of other countries. Within the last twenty-five years, I regret to have to point out that there has been a steady falling off in the standards both in regard to the payment of the teachers and in regard to the other facilities available in Colleges.

As regards your suggestion that in each Government College teaching any subject up to the B.A. or B.Sc. standard there should be one lecturer of the M.E.S. grade, for that subject excluding the Principal who has also to look after the general administration and supervision I have only this to state. It has to be remembered that at present at any rate English is a subject compulsory to all students of the College. As matters stand at present, in the Intermediate class there are two and three divisions in English both in the Junior and in the senior. English has also to be taught for each of the B.A. classes and independently from the classes for the B.Sc. It is not therefore correct to state that the English teaching has been reduced because most of the students take up the B.Sc. courses. There is no College in the whole of the University area where there are no students preparing both for the B.A. and the B.Sc. The large number of students that take to the B.Sc. has not in any way interfered with the necessity for giving teaching separately for the students of the B.A. classes. It seems to me that this is a vital consideration that should be borne in mind, and if this fact is borne in mind it would be apparent that the department is not due to any special preference shown to English as a subject of study, but rather to meet the needs of the Department of English. It would, in my opinion, be unfortunate if this aspect of the question were not taken due note of. Otherwise on general grounds I agree with you that there should be one Professor (M.E.S.) for each subject and the others may be Lecturers. But where a subject demands many more hours of teaching for various grades, it certainly is the impression that more than one Professor may be needed for such a subject.

the Minister
Government

Sir,

In my personal capacity as a tax payer anxious to help the regular government to effect economies in view of the rising cost of the administrative machinery I have the honour to submit the following suggestions which will enable you to ~~save~~ save a considerable amount of money from the situational budget.

2/ There is no University in the world, not even Oxford, Harvard, or Cambridge that has more than one Professor in a subject. Even those Universities have only one professor for each subject and no Additional or Junior Professors. The Presidency College, Madras, run on lines of its own, has a Professor, an Additional Professor, and two Junior Professors to teach English. All four are gazetted officers. In this age of science when all colleges are having B.Sc in several subjects and the senior B.Sc students have to do so English it is absurd to have four gazetted officers to teach English at one College. The number of gazetted men can be reduced to one and the other three gazetted posts in English can be converted to the S.E.S. saving a considerable amount of money.

3/ All first grade Government colleges in this Presidency have two gazetted officers to teach English. From my over 21 years' teaching experience of English as a gazetted officer, I can assert with all the emphasis at my command that there is absolutely no necessity for having two gazetted men as Lecturers in English. My five years' experience as Principal of several colleges is the same. The Government of Madras runs several first grade colleges. In each one of those a gazetted post can be converted into an S.E.S. post and in the Presidency College as many as three posts can be so converted.

4/ I am a gazetted officer of over 21 years' standing and I have not, despite my best efforts, yet learnt as to what good these Divisional Inspectors of Schools do. They only delay decisions and their Managers' prosperity is highly suspicious. All the D.E.Os that I have met, and I have met several, stoutly state that the Divisional Inspectors are of no use to anybody, except to themselves. The elimination of these officers will be helpful administratively and financially.

5/ Now that the foreign element is disappearing from the land there should be only one educational service for colleges. First or second class Honours may be ~~started on~~ given the following scale:

Rs 125-15-275-275-25-300-20-500 with Principal's allowance of Rs 150. People with European qualifications might be given a personal allowance of Rs 50 p.m.

Dear Hon'ble Sir,

My competitor, Sri Kapur J.C.S., joined duty here as Sub Collector yesterday.

He is an expert at procurement and has done excellent work in Madhav. Sri C.R. knows him well and has a high opinion of his talents.

Kapur tells me that if sent with Sri Brahman to the Cricas he guarantees to get at least 30,000 tons of paddy a week and some 300,000 tons during the next ten weeks. He says that the Cricas are full of grain. He also he needs is Sri Brahman.

Please do try to make Sir Bakram see reason and convince him to accompany Kufur on a tour of procurement. The Punjab has been ravaged and instead of getting food from there you will have to feed thousands of Punjabis.
Do mobilise Sir Bakram and give Kufur a free hand. He is an officer of drive and integrity and non-partisan.

I told you of a number of superfluous gazetted posts in English departments of all first grade government colleges. One gazetted officer post from each college can be reduced to the subordinate service and lot of money saved. The abolition of divisional inspectorships is overdue. I hope that you will soon appoint a strong Revenue and office to go into such matters. Lot of provincial funds are being wasted.

With respectful regards
Yours sincerely,

M.E.S. -Suggestions for retrenchment of posts.

The main proposal put forward by Dr.M.Karamchand Wade, Principal and Senior Lecturer (English), Govt. College, Kumbakonam, is that the gazetted staff in the English Dept. of each of the Govt. I Grade colleges be reduced from 2 Lecturers to one and the gazetted staff in the English Dept. of the Presy.College from 4 Professors to one - posts of Asst. Lecturers or Asst.Profs. being created in place of the M.E.S. (gazetted) posts abolished. The main reason given in support of the proposal is that most students take up B.Sc. these days and that the senior B.Sc. students are not reqd. to do English. The matter was refd. to the D.P.I. for remarks. He, in turn, obtained the views of the V.C. of the Madras Unty.

The V.C. says, inter alia, that the large no. of students that take to the B.Sc. course has not in any way interfered with the necessity for giving teaching separately for the students of the B.A. classes and that the present position of having 2 members of the gazetted staff for English in Govt. colleges is not due to any special preference shown to English as a subject of study but rather to meet the needs of the Dept. This argument against the proposal seems sound and acceptable.

3 As regards the Presy.College, the Dir. is of the opinion that, the conditions there being very much different since it teaches up to the Hons. standard, the present no. of Profs. of English - 4 - cannot be reduced without serious loss of efficiency. Attention is, in this connection, invited to G.O.No.1696-Edn., dated 3-9-46, in wh., after elaborate discussion, the fourth post for English in the Presy College, was sanctd.: that post was intended also to promote the interests of the UOTC contingent of the college. This Dept. may therefore endorse the Dir.'s view.

4 has been reduced because all colleges are having B.Sc in several subjects. He also states that Gazetted posts will have to be created for regional languages.

The Director of Public Instruction is of the opinion that in each Government College teaching any subject upto the B.A. or B.Sc. standard including English, there should be one Lecturer of the M.E.S. grade for that subject, excluding the Principal who has also to look after the general administration and supervision of all the Departments. According to the above suggestion, in a college in which the Principal teaches English there will be two lecturers in English while in another where the Principal is teaching any other subject there will be two lecturers in that subject, but only one M.E.S. Lecturer in English. The Director of Public Instruction however considers that the number in the M.E.S. Cadre will not be reduced. As regards the Presidency College, the Director of Public Instruction states that it teaches upto the Honours standard, that conditions are very much different there and that the present number of Professors in English cannot be reduced without loss of efficiency.

The Vice Chancellor, Madras University ^{does not} ~~states~~ ^{seem to be inclined to agree to the above suggestion of the D.P.I. He states} that as matters stand at present, in the Intermediate Class there are two or three divisions in English both in the Junior and the Senior, that English has also to be taught for each of the B.A. Classes and independently from the classes for the B.Sc., that the fact that large number of students are taking B.Sc. has not in any way interfered with the necessity for giving teaching in English separately for the students of the B.A. Class and that the present position of having two members of the M.E.S. in the English is not due to any special preference shown to English as a subject of study but that it is rather to meet the need of the Department of English. On general grounds the Vice Chancellor agrees with the proposals of the Director of Public Instruction.

E & P.H. consider that the above argument of seems sound and acceptable.

4. It will be seen that while the Director of Public Instruction proposes to treat "English" in the same manner as other "subjects" in regard to the number of professors to be allotted, the Vice-Chancellor considers that the number of "Professors" for "English" should be larger, because English is a subject compulsory to all students of the College and the work relating to English is not reduced on account of some students taking the B.Sc. Courses. If the number of students for English increases, there will be a need for an increase in the number of Assistant Professors who handle the classes. It seems that ^{as} ~~the~~ ^{Some relation} ~~number of Professors should also bear a certain proportion to the number of Assistant Professors, there should be more than one Professor for English in the interest of guidance of Assistant Professors and maintenance of discipline among students when the number of Assistant Professors is larger.~~ ^{It seems that, so long as English is a compulsory subject to be taken by students of all classes, no great objection can be raised to ⁱⁿ ~~all~~ ^{which fact} Colleges ^{having} ~~two~~ Professors for that subject being allowed to continue to have them. It seems that, so long as English is a compulsory subject to be taken by students of all classes, no great objection can be raised to ⁱⁿ ~~all~~ ^{which fact} Colleges ^{having} ~~two~~ Professors for that subject being allowed to continue to have them.}

It is observed that the University has prescribed 14 hours work ^(a week) as the maximum for any member on the teaching staff and that additional staff was sanctioned in 1945 for the Presidency College keeping this standard in view, but some relaxation was allowed in the case of the English Lecturer in the Presidency College who is also attending to the work of U.O.T.C. It is presumed that the Professors and their assistants ^{in all Govt. colleges} work at least for the prescribed hours. E & P.H. may see again on this point.

As regards the Madras Presidency College this Department may agree to the retention of the 4 M.E.S. posts for English for the present in view of the reasons given by the Director of Public Instruction.

^{Item} 5.(b) on page 3 above: E & P.H. state that it has been ordered that the question of abolition of the 4 posts of Divisional Inspectors might be left to be decided by the Reorganization Committee and that no separate action is necessary here. Finance may agree. E. & P.H. has no 6. (c) on page 3 above: The revised scales of pay of teaching posts in Colleges of the Education Department are now as follows:--

Madras Ed. Service
M.E.S.

Scale.

Principals, Senior Lecturers, Lecturers, Professors.

Madras Ed. Svc. Service
M.E.S.S.

Rs. 230-30/2-260-40/2-500-50/2-700 [plus a special pay of Rs 50 for a Principal]

Asst. Lecturers, Asst. Professors.

Rs. 120-5-170-7-240
plus Rs. 5 for L.Ts.

The question of revision of scales of pay of Provincial Services is separately under consideration. It does not seem that the suggestions made by Dr. Karamchand need now be considered.

"M" on p. 5 ante: Accg. to the recent instructions of the Syndicate of the Madras Unty., any person who does 10 to 12 hours of lecturing work/should not be expected to correct more than 50 exercises and that, similarly, a person who has 16 to 18 hours of work may devote 6 of these hours to Lab. work or the supervision of practical classes.

In proposing the employment of additional staff in certain Govt. colleges for the year 1947-8, the D.P.I. stated that he estimated the requirements of each college on the following basis and that the proposed staff was the minimum necessary to make for efficiency:-

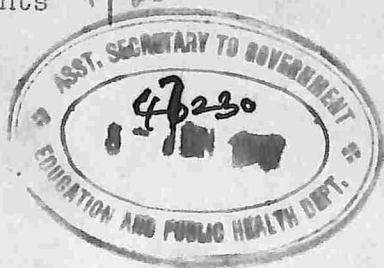

The Principal of a college shd. not have more than 3 or 4 hours of Teaching work.

Heads of depts. in colleges with Pass courses shd. have 15 hours' work including valuations and those in Hons. colleges where they are expected to do Hons. practicals on an extended scale should not have more than 10 hours' work.

Remaining members should have for 20 hours' work including valuations. (8 books an hour in the case of non-Science subjects and 10 books in the case of Science-subjects, shd. be adopted for purposes of calculation).

It can therefore be safely presumed that different categories of officers on the teaching staff of colleges work for the prescribed hours.

May be refd. to Fin.

(Previous Finance note on pages 3-5 above)

In their note on page 6 above E & P.H. have referred to the instructions of the Syndicate of the Madras University regarding the prescribed hours of lecturing work, correction of exercises etc. of the Collegiate teaching staff and also the remarks of the Director of Public Instruction in respect of the hours of teaching work etc. considered to be the standard for the Principals, Heads of Departments etc. of Colleges. That Department presume that the different categories of officers on the teaching staff of Government Colleges work for the prescribed hours. No further action seems called for.

2. As regards the proposal relating to the abolition of the four posts of Divisional Inspectors of Schools, the concerned file was obtained from E & P.H. and perused by this Department.

3. Reference is invited to the remarks of E & P.H. Secretary on page 2 above, especially the portion marked X. It seems that further action in this regard may be taken by E & P.H. which is the administrative Department.
