No. 718 D/47/ CPL dated 31st July 1947

August 15th, 1947 - Day of Independence - Request to grant to the Museum & to the Commemara Public Library staff their weekly holiday on Thursday the 14th August 1947 instead of the usual day of the week (Friday), to enable them to avail of the public holiday on Friday the 15th August 1947 to celebrate the Day of Independence.

We have the honour to invite the attention of Government to the fact that the weekly holiday for the Museum and the Commemara Public Library falls on every Friday (in lieu of Sunday) and therefore that the 15th August 1947, the memorable day of Indian Independence synchronises with the weekly holiday of these two institutions. On account of this the staff of the Museum and the Library will not have a chance to feel that they got a day off from their duty to rejoice their day of Independence as their colleagues working in other Government institutions will do. We feel that this is a unique day in the annals of India's history, a day so anxiously waited for the rank and file of the country, and therefore that we are justified in making a special appeal to Government to accept the recommendation that we submit below.

We recommend that for the Museum and the Commemara Public Library for the week ending 15th August 1947, the Government will be pleased to grant to the staff their weekly holiday on Thursday the 14th August so that they may avail of the Independence day Public Holiday on Friday the 15th instant along with their colleagues working in other Government institutions. An early order is requested on this subject as according to rules, if the Government are pleased to grant our request, it has to be notified in the Fort St. George Gazette and in the dailies, a week in advance, that the Museum and the Library will remain closed on the 14th August 1947 in addition to the usual weekly holiday on Friday the 15th August 1947.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servants,

A. Rajagopal R. Janardhan
Superintendent. 31/7/47 Librarian.
