Sir,

pp 3-4 of the Code

I have the honour to state as per rule 8 of the Chapter XXXIII of the Andhra University Code-Volume II-women candidates that have not been declared eligible for university courses of study can be admitted into the intermediate class at the discretion of the Principal, if they secure 30 per cent marks at the S.S.L.C. The Inspectress of Girls Schools, 1 circle, Rajahmundry, reports that applications for admission to Secondary Grade Training from some candidates of the type that have studied for more than one year and that have even appeared for the intermediate examination and failed have been received. In the circumstances I would recommend that such of the women candidates that were not originally declared eligible for university courses of study but were actually admitted into the intermediate class and have studied in the class for at least one year may also be permitted to be admitted to Secondary Grade Training these candidates of course being given preference after
