Mr. Ignatius Absalom, now Lecturer in English, Government College, Coimbatore, who was formerly an Assistant Lecturer in English, Government Victoria College, Palghat, was first promoted to the Madras Educational Service as Lecturer in English, Government Arts College, Rajahmundry in September 1946 and he joined duty in his new post on 23-9-1946. He was afterwards transferred to Government Victoria College, Palghat, and reported himself to duty at Palghat on 10-3-47. Again in last June, he was transferred from Palghat to the Government College, Coimbatore, and he joined at Coimbatore on 24-6-47. Prior to these transfers, he was transferred thrice during the period from June 1945 to September 1946 on administrative convenience. He left his family and personal effects at Madras as his stay in other stations was only short periods. He now states that he has secured a home at Coimbatore and requests that he may be permitted to take his family and personal effects from Madras to Coimbatore and claim Travelling Allowance on their behalf.

2) The request of the Lecturer is reasonable in view of the fact that his constant transfers made on administrative grounds naturally deferred him from shifting his family and personal effects from place to place particularly in these days of acute shortage of house accommodation. I therefore recommend that Rules 68 and 71 of the Madras Travelling Allowance Rule, may be relaxed in his favour to enable him to claim Travelling Allowance on behalf of his family and personal effects from Madras to Coimbatore.

3) The Lecturer will, however, claim Travelling Allowance on his behalf from Palghat to Coimbatore only.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Copy of letter dated 14th August 1947.

From Ignatius Absalom Esq., M.A., Lecturer in English, Govt. Arts College, Coimbatore.

I was transferred from Palghat to the Govt., Muslim College Madras in June 1945, and the transfer was allowed to help my wife, (a Govt.
Servant then on sick leave) to recoup her health under the best medical assistance in Madras, and to put my children in a convent School, where English has been the medium of instruction. I had to remove my family and all my goods to Madras only in July 1945, as then only I could get a house in Madras. I was in Madras till September 1946, when I was transferred in the M.E.S. to the Arts College, Rajahmundry. That post was considered temporary for me, as Sri K.P.G. Menon was expected to join duty there any time after his sick leave. As expected, I was relieved at Rajahmundry by Sri K.P.G. Menon; and by March 10th 1947, I joined duty in Palghat. I could not, however, shift then my family to Palghat, as my children were still at school, and their summer vacation commenced only in April 1947. Moreover, the post I held in Palghat was expected to be refilled by Sri U. Mangesh Rao, as he was expected to come back from sick leave and fill in that post, before he could retire in May 1947. I could not therefore shift my family to Palghat at all. Moreover now that my children can be admitted in the English Convent School at Coimbatore, I am most anxious to take my family at once to this place. My personal effects have been in Madras since July 1945.
