2. The diploma course in University teaching is novel and I doubt very much if it is at all necessary even though the expenditure may not be high.

3. As regards the Degree course for High school teachers, there is a great demand for trained graduate teachers and it would be much cheaper for Government to sanction a grant to this University than toe open separate Training Colleges.

There is much paucity of teachers of all grades. Many High Schools are working with untrained hands. There is such a dearth of Secondary Grade teachers. Our schools are growing at a rapid pace. The teachers that we are able to train out in the L.T.Colleges and Secondary Grade Training Schools are not sufficient to keep pace with the growing demand. I know in many schools there are as many as 15 untrained men. In these circumstances, I don't see any reason why we should not employ teachers upto 60 years if they choose to serve so. The matter may be gone into and put up.

I have the honour to state that I have since reconsidered ~~recommended~~ the question with reference to the admissions this year and find that there is no necessity at present to open a separate degree course in High School Teaching in the Annamalai University. The sanctioned strength of the B.T. class in the Teachers' College, Saidapet is 150, but in the current year there were only about 110 admissions and to improve the strength, permission had to be given to admit some women students who could not obtain seats in the Lady Willingdon Training College. It is aparent that there is no need for a second Training College. I am therefore of the opinion that the question of opening the couse in the Annamalai University may be deferred for the present.

Annamalai University--Organisation of a degree course in High School teaching.

Reference:- Government Memo. No. 71607-G3/46-6 Education dated 27.8.1947.

I have the honour to state that as far as the Teachers' College, Saidapet is concerned, admissions can be increased to 200 without any extra cost. In the case of the Lady Willingdon Training College, Madras, the main difficulty is the lack of hostel accommodation and as the College is intended for women students, it is not possible to increase the admissions to 100 without additional hostel facilities.

dated 10.2.47.

.... The Annamalai University has renewed its request for Govt. grant for starting from the next academic year two schemes sanctioned by the Syndicate viz. (1) Degree course in High School Teaching and (2) Diploma course in University Teaching. The recurring and non-recurring expenditure for the courses is given on p.p. 2-3 c.f. Attention is solicited to previous discussion on the subject at p.p. 1-2 n.f. of Ⓙ and also the Govt's decision in the matter at p.p. 9-10 and 13-14 c.f. of Ⓙ, negativing the request of the University. Now the D.P.I. does not recommend the starting of the diploma course in University teaching, but he favours the opening of a course for High school teachers.

	Recurring Maximum Rs	Recurring Minimum Rs	Non-recurring ~~Maximum~~ ~~Minimum~~ Rs.

Diploma in University Teaching	12,500/-	9,500/-	1,00,000/-

Govt. may ~~perhaps~~ agree with the recommendation of the D.P.I. that that the diploma course in University teaching is not necessary for the reasons mentioned by him in ~~his~~ paragraph 1 of his letter on p.8 c.f. As regards the starting of the degree course for High School teaching, the D.P.I. states that the ~~present~~ existing number of ~~number of~~ students in training colleges ~~for me~~ is 303 and that in the proposed training College at Mangalore provision has been made for the admission of 40 more. Some more trained hands for high school teaching would be required ~~and in order to meet the demands~~ on account of more schools being started in connection with the present literacy drive. Hence the ~~application of the~~ D.P.I.'s recommendation for the starting of the B.Ed. course for High School teaching in the Annamalai University may be accepted and the subject placed before the University Grants Committee. FINANCE DEPARTMENT

Finance (Exp.A) Deptt.

The Annamalai University has applied for financial aid towards the starting of a Degree Course in High School teaching and a Diploma course in University teaching. The Director of Public Instruction has stated that the Diploma course in University teaching is novel and that it is not necessary. As regards the Degree course he has stated that there is a great demand for the trained graduates and that it would be much cheaper for the Government to sanction a grant to the University than to open separate Training Colleges. The E & P.H. Department agree with the Director of Public Instruction and propose that the matter may be placed before the University Grants Committee.

The opening of a Degree course for High school teaching is estimated to cost Rs.33,000 recurring (maximum) and Rs.1 lakh non-recurring ~~(maximum) and Rs.1 lakh non-recurring~~ towards the construction of lecture halls and a hostel.

2. It is submitted that ~~while~~ when the same proposal was considered in 1945, the Director of Public Instruction stated that the necessity ~~fo~~ for such a course in the Annamalai University was neither urgent nor essential. He also considered that the facilities provided by the existing colleges were adequate and that another college was not needed. cf. also E & P.H. note at M on p.6 c.f. of letter No.841 Edn., dated 1-6-45.

The paucity of trained graduates now reported by the Director of Public Instruction may be due to the fall in the number of candidates seeking admission in the Training colleges either on account of the unattractiveness of the teaching profession or of the fact that they were able to find better jobs during the period of war. The Director of Public Instruction has stated that the present strength in Government training colleges for men is 303. and that the proposed training college at Mangalore will provide for the admission of 40 students. He has not furnished information regarding the number of students admitted in the training colleges for women. There is no information as to the maximum number that can be admitted in each of the existing colleges at present, what the actual strength was during the ~~la~~ last year and whether a large number of students were refused admission last year for want of seats. Unless it is justified by facts and figures that the facilities provided in the existing colleges are not sufficient to meet the demands of candidates seeking admission to training colleges, there seems to be no case for the Government to encourage the University to open the degree courses in teaching by sanctioning a grant. In view of the above remarks, E & P.H. may be requested to obtain the information at X above (on p3) and examine the case further. They may also consult the Director of Public Instruction whether the maximum number of admissions in the existing colleges may not be increased further by providing additional accommodation etc., or cheaper cost if necessary.

In April 1945, the D.P.I. made the following comment in regard to the proposal to make a grant to the Annamalai University for opening a degree course in High School teaching:—

"There are five training colleges at present affiliated to the University of Madras; namely (1) Meston Training College, Madras, (2) Teachers' College, Saidapet, (3) Lady Willingdon training college for women, Madras (4) St. Christopher's training college for women, Madras and (5) St. Anne's training college for women, Mangalore. I consider that the facilities provided by the above colleges are adequate now and that another college is not needed. If, however, the University desires to open the course, there seems to be no reason for the Govt. to give a grant towards the scheme!!"

para 3 p 7 of G.O. 841 Edn 1.6.45 (J)

It is not clear whether the number A or strength of secondary schools has increased so greatly during the last years (with consequent increase in the demand for L.T. teachers) as to justify reconsideration of the D.P.I.'s views ~~expressed by the D.P.I.~~ extracted above. The Govt. have not been giving any special encouragement for the opening of new secondary schools in recent years, except in regard to the education of girls and the needs of backward communities. There could not therefore have been a large increase in the number of secondary schools during the last two years. The D.P.I. has not given any statistics to show that there has been a large increase in the demand for L.T. teachers. Attention is also invited in this connection to para 3 of the Press communique at (C) where it was stated that in the P.W. plan, increase of Arts colleges and L.T. colleges was not contemplated except in relation to the education of women.

cf para 4 of Press Communique at (C) and p 3 of [illegible] (M)

23 (24) 5

In view of the above considerations, Finance may strongly advise against the proposal for a grant to the Annamalai University for opening a diploma course in High School teaching.

II

Another point to be noted is that grants are asked for to cover the entire expenditure anticipated on the scheme. Under Rule 41 of the Grant-in-aid code, the Govt. grant to colleges should not exceed half the approved net cost of maintenance. No justification has been shown for a full grant in this case. For non-recurring expenditure on buildings also, a full grant is asked for. It is usual to give only half grants ~~for~~ to private institutions for buildings for educational purposes. Even if the question of making a grant to the Annamalai University for this purpose is to be pursued, Finance may advise that the grant should be only the normal half grant for buildings and half the net costs for maintenance.

p. 6 of the Code (Grant-in-aid)

If this is to be pursued full justification shd be obtained as suggested at A on p. 4. above

Please see the letter from the DPI on p. 22 cf. He has furnished a statement showing the maximum number of students that can be admitted now in the existing teaching Colleges of the Madras University, the actual strength in each of those institutions during the last year, and the ~~details~~ as to whether many were refused admission for want of seats and whether the existing accommodation ~~can~~ could be further increased. P24 cf

He has also furnished statistics of the number of Secondary Schools, ~~together~~ with the strength in IV to VI forms during the years 1944 to 1946. PP22-23 cf

It will be seen that there has been ~~an~~ a steady increase in the number of Secondary Schools and in the strength of the higher forms. ~~Thus~~ There appears to be a demand for more trained teachers. ~~From the Statt. on p. 24 it appears that it will not be possible to increase the existing accommodation in the various~~

But against about 340 trained actually each, 440 (one hundred more) could be trained in the existing institutions. This may probably ~~be~~ meet the demand. ~~The D.P.I. has not made out a strong case for establishing more teaching institutions.~~ Attention is also in this connection solicited to the minutes of H.M.(Edn.) - extracted at (y) where he states that even the teachers' College, Saidapet, which has been ~~existing~~ in existence for so many years, has been able to get this year applications enough only for one College, ~~with~~ Thus there appears to be no rush ~~into~~ for admission into the Training institutions ~~for admissions. Please~~ though there is a demand for more teachers. Please also see in this connection copy of U.O. to the D.P.I at pp26-22 cf requesting him to consider the advisability of employing teach~~ing~~ers up to 60 years of age, if they ~~choose~~ choose to serve, in order to keep pace with the increasing demand for trained teachers. D.P.I.'s reply is still awaited. ~~However~~ There ~~is~~ may therefore be no justification for recommending a grant to the Annamalai University for organising a degree course in High School teaching at present~~, since there are not sufficient admissions in the present teaching institutions.~~ Finance may see before circulation. It does not appear necessary to place this before the University Grants Committee.

Further it may be urged that the main thing there is the need for more trained teachers. C.No.74369/47 p34 cf From the D.P.I.Roc.No.100-K2/47 dated 169.47.

The proposal relates to the request of the Annamalai University for a grant for the opening of a diploma course in University teaching and a degree course in High School teaching. (pp1-3 cf) The ^same question was once considered in 1945 and the request of the University was negatived in August 1945. (pp13-14 cf (J)) The University ~~has~~ renewed ~~this~~ its request in November 1946. (p11 cf, p10 cf) The ~~D.P.I.~~ D.P.I. who was consulted in the matter at first reported that he was not in favour of ~~the~~ starting of the diploma course in University teaching, but recommended the opening of a course for High school teachers. (p8 cf) The estimated cost for opening the degree course in high school teaching is Rs.33,000/- recurring (maximum) and Rs. 1 lakh non-recurring towards the cost of construction of lecture halls and a hostel. (p14 cf) ~~The D.P.I. xxxxxxx xxxxxxx~~ 2/ This department ^proposed to accept ~~accepted~~ the recommendation of the D.P.I., as some more trained hands for high school teaching would be required on account of opening of more schools in connection with the present drive against illiteracy. (p2 ante) But, Finance, for the reasons mentioned at p.p.4-5 ante, strongly advised against the proposal for a grant to the Annamalai University, (p5 ante) and suggested that if the question of making a grant to the Annamalai University is to be pursued, the grant should be only the normal half grant for buildings and half the net cost for ~~buildings~~ maintenance, if there is justification for the opening of a course in high school teaching. 3/// The details of the existing ~~number~~ provision ~~that can be admitted~~ in each of the existing teaching colleges etc. were called for ~~the~~ from the D.P.I. The particulars furnished by ~~the~~ him ~~D.P.I.~~ are on p.p.22-23 c.f . It will be seen therefrom that there is a demand for more trained teachers. But in another connection, the D.P.I. pointed out that there is no rush for admissions into the training institutions, though there is a demand for more teachers. The D.P.I. who was asked to state as to whether the cost of increasing the ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ admissions to 200 and 100 respectively in the Teachers College, Saidapet, and the Lady Willingdon Training College, Madras, would be less than the grant payable to the Annamalai University if the proposal of the University is to be accepted, stated that on reconsideration the proposal for opening a course in high school teaching in the Annamalai University may be deferred for the present. He has also stated that as far as the Teachers' College, Saidapet, is concerned, admissions can be increased to 200 without any extra cost and ~~xxxxx~~ that in ~~xxxx~~ the case of the Lady Willingdon Training College, it is not possible to increase the admissions to 100 without providing additional hostel facilities.

It is therefore for orders whether the D.P.I.'s recommendation that the proposal for opening a high school teaching course in the Annamalai University be deferred for the present, may be accepted and the request of the University for a grant for the purpose be negatived. It is true that we want more teachers for teaching in high schools. It is also true that we dont have enough candidates coming forward. I would have been for giving the Annamalai University some help in this matter but for the fact that the affairs of the University do not seem to be getting on very well justnow. There seems to be so much of in-discipline and very bad atmosphere. The recent burning of the National Flag and violent attack on students by students themselves are not good augeries. In these circumstances, no ex-tra department need be opened in that University. The proposals may be negatived.

E.& P.H.(G.3)

Extract of the minutes of H.M.(Edn.) dated 26.5.47:--

With regard to ~~Secondar~~ the condition of secondary schools there also, the demand for secondary education is frightful when compared to the supply of teachers in secondary schools. The number of secondary schools in 1939-40 is 661 with 2,45,084 pupils. The number of secondary schools in 1945-46 was 855 with 4,04,938 pupils. In 1946-47, recognition has been given to 87 secondary schools and for the opening of ~~nearly double the number~~ nearly 80 fresh divisions. This means that there is necessity for nearly double the number of teachers in 1939-40 but unfortunately, training schools have virtually remained static. ~~Th~~ There is an agitation amongst teachers and decrying their own profession which has resulted in less recruitment to the teaching profession in spite of the greater pay that the Govt.have offered in the recent revision. Even the teachers' College in Saidapet, which has been existing for so many years, has been able this year to get applications enough only for one college, with the ~~result that~~ effect that while high schools have become nearly three times the number which it was about 12 years ago, the people trained as teachers have remained ~~at~~ almost static and so, until something happens and we get our training colleges full, it is necessary for us to ~~fix~~ find some way of recruiting teachers so that we can keep pace for the demand for secondary education also.
