DRAFT ANSWER

pleased to state:

(a) whether in the Post-War education scheme the principle of granting same emoluments to teachers whatever may be the agency under which they are employed, was accepted.

(a) YES.

(b) If so, whether provision was also made for funds required for the purpose;

(b) No provision ^{was} made. The post-war pamphlet only contains details of cost involved if uniform scales of pay were to be introduced for teachers in all schools.

(c) whether the scheme to improve the emoluments of teachers had the approval of the Govt. of India;

(c) YES

(d) whether the Cabinet Committee in its report on the revision of salaries has abandoned the principle mentioned in (a) and if so what necessitated the change;

(d) YES. Apart from the differences in conditions of service between the teachers and Govt. employees and others ^{working} under local bodies and private institutions, the conditions of provincial finance necessitated the change.

(e) whether the Govt. have at any time considered the need to assure assistance to local bodies and aided managements to enable them to increase the salaries of teachers consistent with the Principle enunciated in (a); and

(e) The matter has been considered many times and the Govt. have from time to time considered the increase of grants to these institutions. While it is for the local boards to devise means for meeting the extra cost involved, the Govt. have come forward to give the maximum possible help to aided institutions also.

(f) whether the Govt. have under consideration any proposal to re-examine the whole question of salaries and allowances of teachers irrespective of the agency under which they are working;

(f) NO.

Attention is solicited to the papers in going 1037 Edn dated 17.5.47. Though the Govt originally framed proposals for the revision of pay of teachers, ^{on the principle of} the same scales of pay of equal qualifications, the principle has to be abandoned on account of the high additional cost involved. The matter is under examination and the question is to be ~~decided~~ ^{placed} before the Standing Finance Committee. The decision of the Committee may perhaps be awaited, before this question is answered.
