Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute

Annual Report for 1946-47

We have the honour to report on the working of the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute for the year ending 31st March 1947. The report of the Executive Board and of the several departments of the Institute contain a detailed account of the activities of the Institute during the year. We shall therefore take a brief general survey of only the important activities of the Institute during the period of this report.

2 The difficulties that hampered the publication activities of the Institute during the period of war, viz., the shortage of skilled labour, excessive cost of printing as also shortage of paper, continued also during the year under report, though in a modified form. There has been slight improvement in the supply of paper, but the two other factors referred to above remain unaltered. During the year under report the Institute could publish four parts of the Annals as against three in the previous year. It was also able to complete Mm. Prof. P. V. Kane's History of Dharmashastra Vol. III, a major part of which was printed off during the previous years. This Volume consists of nearly 1100 pages, and deals, in an encyclopaedic manner, with Rajadharma, Vyavahara and Acara, the three important topics in our Ancient and Mediaeval Religious and Civil Law. It was a happy coincidence that the publication of this volume of Prof. Kane's work was formally announced by the Hon'ble Mr. W. N. Puranik, the Vice-Chancellor of the Nagpur University, at the opening Session of the All India Oriental Conference, which was held at Nagpur, in October last, and of which Prof. Kane himself was the General President. It may be recalled here that the three published volumes of Prof. Kane's work together extend over 3500 pages. He is now busy at the fourth and the last volume of this unique History and we hope to be able to publish it before very long. The publication of three different Volumes of the Descriptive Catalogue, which was suspended three years ago, was resumed towards the close of the year under report. A copy of another volume was entrusted to a local press. Besides this work, the publication department printed off a portion of the reprint of the Sarvadarśanasamgraha with a view to making it available for sale at an early date.

3 The Mahābhārata department published, during the year, forms 71-94 of the text of the Bhīsmaparvan edited by the General Editor, Dr. S. K. Belvalkar, and the first two forms of his Introduction to that Parvan. Dr. S. K. De, the editor of the Dronaparvan, hopes to start his work on this Parvan in June 1947. Dr. P. L. Vaidya, the editor of the Karnaparvan, is now engaged in revising the critical apparatus of the text of this Parvan, which is being printed in the Nirnayasagar Press, Bombay. Prof. H. D. Velankar, the editor of the Sauptikaparvan, has completed the first draft of the text of this Parvan. He is now revising the text and the critical apparatus which is in progress. Dr. V. G. Paranjpe and Dr. R. N. Dandekar are now engaged in their work on the Strīparvan and the Sālyaparvan respectively.

4 Efforts were made during the year to secure some new donations and also to revive some of the grants, the period of which had already expired. Special thanks of the Institute are due to the following new donors, who have been generous enough to contribute the following donations towards the Critical Edition of the Mahābhārata.

	Rs.
1 Dr. B. C. Law, M.A., B.L., Ph.D., D.Litt., (for the printing of the Sālyaparvan)	12,000
2 Shri Jugal Kishore Birla of Calcutta	1,000
3 Kotah Darbar, Kotah	1,500
4 Shri Vishnupant Velankar of Sangli	250
Total	14,750

In spite of the above donations, the financial position of the Department is far from satisfactory, and, unless new funds are forthcoming, year after year, to meet the heavy cost of printing the different Parvans of the Epic, it will be difficult for the department to carry out this work successfully in a reasonably expeditious manner.

5 As regards the progress of the printing of the several volumes of the Descriptive Catalogue of Government Manuscripts, we have to state that the printing of four different volumes of this catalogue was resumed during the year, and a few forms pertaining to these volumes were printed off. The Regulating Council has been emphasising, for more than ten years, the need of some special grant from the Government for the publication of the press copies of about 29 volumes of this Catalogue which have been ready since several years past. It is hoped that Government will look into this question seriously and make some provision for a special grant for this purpose, if the work is to be completed within the life-time of those who have been responsible for the preparation of the press copies of this catalogue.

6 As mentioned in the last year's report the Philosophical Library of New York has brought out the Encyclopaedic History of the Literatures of the World in two volumes (about 1200 pages) edited by Joseph T. Shipley. Dr. R. N. Dandekar helped the Editor in organising the section dealing with the Literatures of India, in collaboration with a large number of Indian scholars.

7 As usual, the Institute co-operated with the Poona Central Committee for Post-graduate Lectures. Dr. R. N. Dandekar, Prof. R. D. Vadekar, Dr. G. V. Tagare, and Prof. D. G. Koparkar delivered lectures on Ancient Indian Culture, Pali, Sanskrit, and Ardhamāgadhī.

8 The work of the office of the All India Oriental Conference, which is permanently located at the Institute, is going on satisfactorily under the supervision of the General Secretary of the Conference, Dr. R. N. Dandekar.

9 The twenty-ninth Foundation Day of the Institute was celebrated on the 6th July. On this occasion, Mr. P. R. Chidambaram Iyer, B.A., delivered a lecture on "The revelation of the first stanza of the Mahābhārata". Mr. N. C. Kelkar was in the chair. The lecture has since been published in the Annals of the Institute, Vol. XXVII, pp. 83-101. The twenty-first anniversary of Sri R. G. Bhandarkar was solemnised on the 31st August 1946 (Rishipanchami day) when Dr. J. M. Unwala, Ph.D., delivered a learned address on "Political and Cultural relations between Iran and India". The Hon'ble Mr. K. S. Firodia, B.A., LL.B., Speaker, Bombay Legislative Assembly, presided on that occasion.

10 During the year under report the Institute suffered great loss through the demise of several friends and benefactors. Rao Bahadur K. N. Dikshit, M.A., retired Director General of Archaeology in India, who passed away on the 12th August 1946, was a life-member of this Institute almost from its very commencement. He took part in all the activities of the Institute, being a member of its Regulating Council and the Executive Board. He was also the Vice-Chairman of the Regulating Council and the Joint Editor of the Annals. The Institute deeply mourns the loss of such an eminent scholar-friend, who, since his retirement from service, tried to identify himself with all the academic activities in Mahārāṣṭra and outside, with a view to giving them an added impetus by his selfless devotion and zest for learning. Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, who passed away on the 12th November 1946, was deeply interested in all the academic activities of this Institute since its very inception and especially in its work on the Critical Edition of the Mahābhārata. The services of Panditji to our Motherland as scholar, teacher, journalist, politician and educationist remain unparalleled in the history of India. His intense religious outlook and devotion to Dharma, not to say his burning patriotism, have left an indelible stamp upon his countrymen. He will ever be remembered as the founder of the great Benares Hindu University, his most permanent contribution to India. The Institute deeply mourns, with the whole of India, the irreparable loss caused by the demise of this great son of Bharātavarṣa, whose exemplary life and character were an inspiration to all his contemporaries and will be an inspiration to the future generations of India.

11 In concluding this report we cannot but emphasise, as in the previous years, the need for getting more funds for the Mahābhārata Department of the Institute. It is now 28 years since the work was started by this Institute, and, since then, it has been carried on without a break inspite of all difficulties. During the last five years the Department has suffered heavily by the loss of some of its able workers. Efforts are being made to make up this loss by the appointment of new workers, but it will take some time to train them so as to bring their work to the required efficiency so necessary for an expeditious completion of this epoch-making work. Finally we have to thank most cordially our colleagues on the Regulating Council and the Executive Board for their unstinted co-operation in conducting the affairs of the Institute in a smooth and efficient manner.

" Resolved that in view of the scarcity of paper only a brief summary (not exceeding two forms) of the activities of the Institute during the year 1946-47 be printed in lieu of the full report. Three type-written copies of the full report should however be made available to members in the Office of the Institute "
