Clause (a) of rule 22 published in notification No.169 dated 30th May 1939 on page 353 of Part I-B of the Fort St. George Gazette dated 6th June 1939 runs as follows:--

"The charges for copying and comparing of manuscripts will be one rupee for 100 granthas from palm leaf and

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the social context of communication. It argues that communication is not merely a technical process but a social one, shaped by cultural norms and values. This section also explores how different cultures may have varying perceptions of what constitutes effective communication.
