(e) Unserviceable typewriters fetch good price in auction. All other articles are not valuable. In G.O.Ms.No.153 Edn., dated 30-1-1943, it was ordered that unserviceable typewriters should not be sold in public auction but should be collected and sent to the Army Ordnance Factory for dismantling and conversion to spare parts. So they were not arranged for sale. Subsequently in G.O.Ms.No.1165 Edn. dated 31-7-1945 this order has been cancelled and the Superintendent of Stationery has been permitted to sell the condemned typewriters in public auction. Accordingly, tender for auctioneer's services has been settled for the current year. The accumulated condemned typewriters and other articles of stationery which were found useless either in stock-taking or returned by officers as unfit for use since 1942 will be sold in Public auction which will be held shortly. Articles, such as gunnies, hoop-iron, wooden splinters and cloth-bits which would deteriorate by long storage were however sold from time to time to highest offerer.

The answer to question (c and d) contain the list of articles so sold.
