*Q.No. 555.

Will the Hon. the Minister for Education be pleased to state: whether the Government have any proposal to change the existing Educational Rules that a Deputy Inspector of Schools should pay a visit to each school once in three months?

No. According to the Madras Inspection Code, a Deputy Inspector should visit every elementary school in his jurisdiction annually. In addition, he is expected to make surprise visits for improving the school. Orders have been issued many years back by the D.P.I. that such surprise visits should be at least two in the course of a year.

The Madras Educational Rules and the Rules relating to elementary schools do not contain any provision as referred to in the question. According to the Madras Inspection Code, Deputy Inspectors should visit every elementary school in his jurisdiction annually. In addition, he is expected to make surprise visits for 'improvement' during the year. It is understood that the D.P.I. had issued a Proceedings as long ago as 1939 to the effect that such surprise visits should be made at least twice a year. For orders whether the D.P.I. should see this note u.s. before circulation.
