2. If Great Ganthi lives and dies for one aim in life it was for 'ahimsa' or non-violence. This aim will have to receive greater stress in the syllabus as the highest form of adult education. To this end I would suggest a study of typical situations in his life to set forth non-violence as practised by him. "Life of Ganthi with special reference to non-violence" may therefore be added as a separate and first item of study although it is possible to deal with it in fragments in the syllabus. As a result of this study the trainees must be able to practise Gandhian self-control and set an example to others.

3. Adult Education is put down as one of the several items of the syllabus. The whole activity is adult education. Hence the heading may be changed to "LITERACY" and the following included:

- i. The need for literacy - practical, cultural, religious and social.
- ii. How to make the village literate - mobilisation of local literates -

- Each-One-Teach-One - Make-Your-Own-Home-Literate - Gandhiji's exhortation - The place of the elementary school in a drive against illiteracy.

iii. Quick - literary methods for adults - use of aids.

iv. How to keep the village literate - Continuation books, Libraries, Adults' Clubs, story of departmental pamphlets etc.

Note: Adult teaching practice will be arranged for in the evenings and trainees will teach adults by turns at one or more local centres.

To facilitate this activity the time-table will be modified. There will be discussions or special lectures from 4.15 to 5.15 P.M. and Games from 5.15 to 6 P.M. so that all will be free for local adult education practice after food in the night. As sustained garden work may not be feasible in six weeks in a training camp of this kind it may as well be left out, or gardening and games can be gone through alternately by the trainees divided into two batches. There will be scope for gymnastics during the games hour.

4. "Cloth Industry" may be changed to "Khadi".
