EDUCATION AND PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.
 ANSWER.

(a) and (b): Twenty-one District Boards and sixty-four Municipal Councils have granted advance increments to teachers in elementary schools. The remaining District Boards and Municipal Councils could not grant advance increments to teachers in elementary schools due to paucity of funds. The Government have decided not to insist on these local bodies granting advance increments in the current year. The question however will be reviewed later on when their finances improve.

In the case of teachers employed in secondary schools under local bodies, the Government instructed all Special Officers of District Boards and Executive authorities of Municipal Councils to grant advance increments without any claim for arrears.

(c) The decision of the Government is that the expenditure connected with the grant of advance increments to teachers in elementary schools should be met from the funds of the local bodies concerned and that no subsidy should be paid for the purpose, but only advances which should be recovered in instalments. As regard teachers in secondary schools, the question whether the additional expenditure involved to local bodies in the grant of advance increments and consequent refixation of pay of these teachers in secondary schools should be taken into account for purposes of assessment of teaching grant on half the net cost basis will be considered separately.

(d) The grant of weightage by way of advance increments has been made obligatory in respect of the other servants of Municipal Councils and District Boards.

Sixty-four Municipal Councils have so far been allowed to pay advance increments to the E.E. staff in their employ, with effect from 1-1-47. In the case of the remaining Municipal Councils the question has been deferred for want of funds. The Government are, however, re-examining the question whether these Municipal Councils ^{also} may be permitted to allow advance increments to the Ele. I think the answer to clause (d) as suggested in the draft is not correct.

The grant of weightage by way of advance increments has been made obligatory in respect of other servants of Municipal councils and District Boards only in so far as their finances will permit. Orders have also been issued that in such of those municipalities and district boards, the grant of weightage to secondary school teachers is also obligatory.

This may be checked up and if my position is the correct position, the position stated above may be inserted as answer to clause (d) instead of the one suggested in the draft.

A above seems correct.

M.C.B. and d.t.b.s. have been directed to give effect to the revised scales of pay to their employees (non-teaching staff) with effect from varying dates: (1.1.47, 1.8.47 and 1.4.48). Consistent with their ability to meet the exp. involved in the revision. Once a particular d.b. or m.c.b. is directed to give effect to the revised scales from a particular date say 1.1.47, it has been made obligatory on its part to give advance weightage also from that date. The giving of weightage by itself has no reference to the financial ability of the m.c.b. or d.b. as the financial position was already examined in each case before directing to give effect to the revised scales from a particular date.

not appear that in the above circumstances, it does not appear that any change in the draft answer suggested on p. 3 is necessary.

30/3/48

So far as Edn. Staff other than Edn. Cation Staff is concerned, there is no m.c.b. or d.t.b. which has been ordered to adopt the revised scales of pay alone without weightage. In this case, the revised scales of pay and weightage have been given effect to from one and the same date either 1.1.47 or 1.8.47 or 1.4.48, with regard to the ability of the m.c.b. or d.t.b. to bear the extra cost involved.

The draft answer may perhaps stand as it is.
The file may be circulated to H. W. (Edw.)

There is no reference to the state. The giving of weights

With regard to elementary schools, the number of local boards and Municipalities which have given weightage to service has been given but with regard to secondary schools, the number of Municipalities and District Boards which have given weightage for service, has not been given. That may be given to enable me to answer supplementaries. The answer is approved.
