SUBJECT:- SCHOLARSHIPS FOR ADVANCED STUDIES OVERSEAS 1947-48 - MADRAS GOVERNMENT SCHEME.

Separate file

The undersigned is directed to refer to this Department endorsement of even number, dated the 9th May, 1947, in so far as it relates to Mr. J.Sethumadhavachar and to state that the High Commissioner for India, London, has intimated that an alternation has been made in the candidate's ~~very~~ surname from the very long one written in this Department cable furnishing him his particulars to just "CHAR" as that is the way the scholar writes on his application form and also the way he signs it.

Some of the Southern names are long enough as they are, and the High Commissioner for India considers that an opportunity of choosing the shortest form whenever possible should not be lost.

The chances of placing him anywhere in the United Kingdom for "Electrical Engineering" as desired, by the Provincial Government are not very bright. The High Commissioner for India however, assures that every effort will be made, in regard to the scholar's admission, and an intimation in the matter will be sent in due course.

Dear Rahman

1 This is with reference to your Department cable No. F/4/2/47OD.IV. of the 9th May regarding Mr. J.S.Char, a Madras Government scholar for Electrical Engineering.

2 We have been in touch with Edinburgh who are willing to consider his application for admission as a Ph.D. student if he is found to be qualified to do some original research work in the subject. They say, however, there is little chance of his being admitted in October of this year but he might possibly be admitted later, perhaps in the New Year.

3 Please note, however, that as a research student he would not be able to study Generation, Transmission and Utilisation of Electric Power, as desired by the Government. As a Ph.D. student the candidate would naturally have to restrict his work to a specific problem. However, if the Government at all want to consider this proposal from Edinburgh the enclosed form should be filled in by the candidates and returned with:

p7 up

1) Reprints of any original work he may have done,
and
2) Details as to marks obtained in his B.E. and B.Sc. Examinations.

4 There is one doubtful point in this student's application form which might as well be cleared up at this stage. In the application form originally sent to us the candidate writes he has passed B.Sc. Honours from Madras University, while in one of his testimonials given to him by the Professor of Electrical Engineering, dated 10th September 1946,he is stated to be an M.A. in Physics. Also in the application form which this candidate submitted to his Provincial Government he states he passed the "B.Sc. Honours or M.A." When this candidate fills in the enclosed form I think he should put it down clearly either way.

p9/(A)

p1/(A)

5 ~~of trying to secure admission~~ In case the Government of Madras do not accept the idea of trying to secure admission for research at Edinburgh it may be pointed out that the chances of this candidate, or for the matter of that, any others, of admission to a straightforward course in Electrical Engineering anywhere in the U.K. are very slight indeed this year.

Yours sincerely,

Sgd/-M.C.Obroi

The Director of Public Instruction,

Sir:

Sub: Overseas scholarships - 1947-48 - Sri J.Sethumadhavachar- Admission.

Ref: Your U.O.No.3664 C1/47 dated 27th August 1947.

Mr.~~Sethumadhavachar~~ J.S. Char is a B.Sc.(Honours) in Physics and has been awarded the M.A. Degree through influx of time as is the case in other Universities for holders of Honours Degree. He is entitled to the use of the title M.A. after his name. However, for purposes of precise valuation of his attainment and qualification, he should be considered as a holder of B.Sc.(Honours) Degree in Physics.

2 Mr.~~J.S.~~Char has obtained his B.Sc.(Honours) Degree in the First Class for which a candidate has to obtain not less than 60% marks. He should therefore be considered to possess a good Honours degree in Physics. He has passed the B.E.Degree examination in Electrical Engineering of the University of Madras with Honours for which a candidate is required to obtain not less than 66% marks. He should therefore be considered to possess a good degree in Electrical Engineering. Mr.Char has been engaged in research on Doubly Fed Induction Motors since July 1947 and has done a considerable amount of good work on this very difficult subject.

3 I should therefore think that in view of the high scientific background in Physics, a good degree in Electrical Engineering and his experience in research, Mr.Char is quite fit for enrolment for the Ph.D. degree of any University, and if I may say so, much better qualified than most British research students in engineering departments of British Universities.

4 If Mr.Char cannot be found a place in any institution in the U.K. for post-graduate study in Generation, Transmission and Utilisation and the alternative suggested below is not possible, the only course would be to permit him to do research at the Edinburgh University and get the Ph.D. degree. It may be suggested that Mr.Char may be given a problem that would come within the province of his subject, Generation, Transmission and Utilisation.

5 It will take Mr.Char two years to get his Ph.D. degree. While at the Edinburgh University, Mr.Char should visit Works, Factories, Power Stations and Research Laboratories during long holidays and vacation and during the term whenever possible. After completing the course at the University, he should undergo a year's practical training in Works and Power Stations. It will therefore be necessary to grant him a scholarship for three years, as against two years in the case of most of the students sent abroad. The extra year would be fully justified as there are very few who are as well equipped and well suited for teaching work as Mr.Char.

6 The alternative to his going to the Edinburgh University is that he should have practical training in Works for a period of 18 months in the following sections:-

(a) High Voltage Transformer Assembly and Testing.	... 3 months.
(b) High Voltage Switch Gear Assembly and Testing.	... 3 months.
(c) Large alternators Assembly and Testing.	... 3 months.
(d) Meters and Relays Assembly and Testing.	... 3 months.
(e) High Voltage Testing and Research Department.	... 4 months.
(f) High Voltage Cable Manufactur~~ing~~e and Testing.	... 2 months.

7. The training may be arranged in one manufacturing firm or ~~a~~ in a number of manufacturing firms. I give below the firms in which the training could be arranged in the various sections.

(a) High Voltage Transformer Assembly and Testing: British Electric Transformer Company; Hackbridge; Johnson and Phillips; Ferranti; Metropolitan Vickers; British Thomson Houston; English Electric; General Electric.

(b) High Voltage Switch Gear Assembly and Testing: Reyrolles; Ferguson Pelin; Metropolitan Vickers, British Thomson Houston; English Electric; General Electric.

(c) Alternators Assembly and Testing: Metropolitan Vickers; British Thomson Houston; English Electric; General Electric.

(d) Meters and Relays Assembly and Testing: Metropolitan Vickers, British Thomson Houston; English Electric; General Electric; Ferranti; Siemens-Elliot; and Everett Edgcumbe.

(e) High Voltage Testing and Research: Metropolitan Vickers; Ferranti, British Thomson Houston; English Electric; and General Electric.

Queen Mary's College, London would also suitable.

(f) Cable Manufacturing and Testing: Callenders; Henley; Glover; Pirelli and Siemens.

8 After the Works training, Mr.Char should spend 6 months in the British Electric Grid System.

9 If the training cannot be arranged in firms in England, it may be arranged in other countries like Switzerland and Sweden.

10 The application form for enrolment for the Ph.D. degree of the Edinburgh University duly completed by Mr.Char is enclosed herewith. 69

11 There are three candidates who have been selected for the subject of Generation, Transmission and Utilisation of Electric Power. In view of the absence of post-graduate courses in Universities in U.K. and the difficulty of admissions, I suggest that the alternative course suggested above for Mr.Char, may be adopted for all the three candidates. I really think that under the existing conditions, the alternative is much better than sending our students to Universities in U.K.

I am glad to know from your above proceedings, that the Government of India are agreeable to extending Mr. J.C.Char's scholarship to three years to enable him to get his Ph.D. from the Edinburgh University in two years and a year's practical training thereafter.

I note that pure practical training is outside the scope of the overseas scholarship scheme. I had only suggested it as an alternative course, in case Mr. Char did not get admission in the Edinburgh University.

I am still not certain if Mr. Char would get admission in the Edinburgh University, or the University authorities may be able to give him a problem within the scope of "Generation, Transmission and Utilisation of Electric Power". I therefore suggest that the Government of India may be informed that Mr.Char does not get admission in the Edinburgh University, or if the Edinburgh University cannot give him facilities for investigation on a problem within the scope of 'Generation, Transmission and Utilisation of Electric Power", attempts may be made to place him in the Queen Mary's College, London. As far as I know, of all the colleges in U.K. this college has the best High Voltage laboratory and I expect that it would not find any difficulty in giving Mr. Char a problem on High Voltage Transmission which would come within the scope of the subject, 'Generation, Transmission and Utilisation of Electric Power'.

I would like the Director to write to the Government of India, that in the case of all the candidates placed in institutions in the U.K, or U.S.A. arrangements may be made for their practical training during vacations and long holidays. Such training can generally be arranged much more easily by the Professors under whom the students work and it might be enough if all the overseas-going students are informed that they are expected to spend their long holidays and vacations in acquiring practical experience.

Subjects of reaearch proposed by Mr.J.S.Char for the Ph.D. Degree course at the University of Edinburgh.

1.DESIGN AND PERFORMANCE OF POLYPHASE DOUBLE SYNCHRONOUS SPEED MOTOR.

Both the stator and the rotor of a 3-phase slip ring induction motor are fed by a 3-phase supply either in eries or in parellel, but with reversed phase sequences, so that their rotating fields revolve in opposite directions. If the rotor is first separately driven and brought up by another primve mover or other means to double the synchronous speed and the motivating power then removed, the rotor will then continue to run at the same double synchronous speed due to the two rotating fields locking one another magenetically.

The scope of the subject will be to determine the performance of the motor and to investigate special features

features that may be required in its design.

2.THEORY AND EERFORMANCE OF DOUBLE FED INDUCTION MOTOR.

Both the rotor and the stator of a 3-phase slip ring induction motor are fed by a 3-phase supply either in series or parallel, but with reversed phase sequences to that their rotating fields revove in opposite directions. Such a motor starts and runs up to nearly synchronous speed and has a speed characteristic similar to that of the induction motor.

The object is to study its performance and offer a theory.

3. THEORY AND PERFORMANCE OF INDUCTION AND SYNCHRONOUS MOTORS IN CASCADE.

With both the motors mechanically coupled, the stator of the synchronous motor is fed from the slip rings of the usual 3-phase induction motor. Power factor can be controlled by varying the D.C. excitation of the synchronous motor.

The High Commissioner for India, has asked for certain clarifications with regard to the admission for Overseas studies of J.S.Char, a candidate selected by Govt.for Overseas Scholarship in 1947-8 - please see the letters on pp.3-5 C.F. p8CF

The following alternative courses have been suggested by the Principal, College of Engineering, Guindy to be undergone by J.S.Char.

(i) Ph.D.Course for a period of two years at the ~~End~~ Edinburg University in U.K. followed by a practical training for a period of one year in Works and Power stations (i.e.) in all, a course for three years, or 18 months in private manufacturing firms followed by a period of service for six months in the British ~~Grid~~ Electric Grid System (i.e) in all, a course of practical training for a period of two years.

In view of the absence of post-graduate courses in Universities in U.K. and the difficulty of admissions, the Principal prefers alternative (ii). But recently in another case the Govt.of India have pointed out that the overseas scholarship scheme, the cost on which will be borne by the Govt. of India and the Provincial Govts., on a 50 to 50 basis, contemplates only higher post-graduate studies of which practical training may be a part but not a course of purely practical training and ~~of~~ that, if the course is one which is purely a training course, the Provincial Govt. should bear the entire cost. Alternative(ii) above, which relates to a course of practical training as recommended by the Principal, College of Engineering,Guindy, if accepted, will therefore mean that the Provincial Govt. will have to bear the entire cost. It is perhaps in this view E.& P.H. propose to accept that Sri J.S. Char may be admitted into the Ph.D.Degree of Edinburg University covering a period of 2 years followed by a practical training for a period of one year in Works as proposed by the Principal; Such practical training being taken either in the ~~Fees~~ firms in England or other countries like Switzerland and Sweden. The Govt.of India will presumably agree to bear half of the cost of the entire course of study of Sri J.S.Char (including practical training for one year). E.& P.H. may be requested to get the po~~s~~ition clarified ~~in~~ by a reference to the Govt. of India. Subject to this ~~have~~ being done, this department need not object to the extension of the period of study of Sri J.S.Char by one year beyond the normal period of two years allowed for Overseas scholars, and ~~this department~~ agree to the proposal of E.& P.H. as stated at 'A' and 'B' above.

The C of I have agreed to Mr Char doing his Ph.D. at Edinburgh University followed by a practical training for one year. They have accepted the one year's practical training only provisionally and have stated that their final sanction will depend on the progress made by the Scholar and on the recommendations of Mr. Char's Professors supported by ~~your~~ of the H.C's observations in respect thereof. The alternative course of practical training suggested by Dr. Rudra in paras 6-8 of his letter on pp 7-8 cf is not acceptable to the C of I since pure practical training is outside the scope of their overseas Scholarship Scheme. It is also seen from their letter that if this Govt. want to press the practical training suggested as an alternative, the Ministry of Labour, C of I, ~~also~~ which has a scheme for sending scholars abroad for practical training should be approached. The alternative course need not be insisted on as the C of I have agreed to Mr Char doing his Ph.D. degree and have also provisionally agreed to the one year practical training after the Scholar finishes his Ph.D. course.
