Uniforms are, however, stated to be supplied to the lorry drivers and chauffeurs employed in some of the State hospitals and also at the Government Silk Filatures at Kollegal. It will appear from pages 11-13 c.f. that the period of wear in these cases is limited to one year, the supply consisting of two Khaki drill suits and a forage cap.

It is not clear why the period of wear in the case mentioned at 'N' above should be less than in the case of the Secretariat Van drivers. There must be some uniformity in these cases and the Superintendent of Stationery who supplies the uniforms may perhaps be asked to state why the period of wear for the hospital drivers and those employed in the Silk Filatures at Kollegal may not also be increased to two years as in the case of the Secretariat van drivers.
