Roc.No.780 B2/48 dated 30-8-1948.

Sir,

Sub: Elementary Education - Aided Schools - Assessment of grant for prevocational instructors - clarification of certain rules regarding aid.

In submitting herewith a copy of the objection in para VIII of the Audit Report O.A.No.33 C/47-48 133 dated 12-7-48 of the Accountant-General, Madras in regard to the assessment of grants for Prevocational Instructor in Aided Higher Elementary School, Ramagovindapuram, Nellore District, I have the honour to submit the following remarks.

At present the number of teachers for whom grant is assessed in an elementary school is governed by Rule 4 of the Rules for aid under which the number is restricted to the number of approved sections, or number of teachers actually employed or the teacher quotient as arrived at by rule 4(2) whichever is less and in the case of schools with 10 or more sections for one extra teacher. The Accountant-General has now raised an objection for the assessment of grant for the Prevocational Instructor in the school under reference for the reason that the number of teachers admissible is not covered by the teacher-quotient. The introduction of pre-vocational subjects is now compulsory in all Higher elementary schools and it is also a condition for the recognition of such schools. As such the appointment of Prevocational Instructors is compulsory. But in view of the fact that they are handling technical subjects they may have to be considered only as special Instructors and not as regular class teachers for purposes of grant. They have nothing to do with the teacher quotient which applies for regular class teachers only. But as the rules at present are not clear on this point, the position may be made clear by the issue of a specific Government order that for purposes of assessment of grant, Prevocational Instructors employed in Aided Higher Elementary Schools may be considered as additional teachers over and above the number admissible for the school with reference to rule 4(2) and (3) of the Rules for aid to elementary schools in Chapter II-Part II of the Rules relating to elementary schools. This may be issued in the form of a note under Rule 4(3) of the Rules for aid.

I may also state in this connection by way of analogy that in the case of Aided Secondary Schools also, Language Pandits, Manual Training Instructors, Physical Education Teachers and other such special teachers are allowed for purposes of grant over and above the number admitted with reference to the number of sections. In the case of Higher elementary Schools as Language Pandits are appointed only in place of regular class teachers (Secondary grade) such a contingency does not arise and a ruling is now sought for in respect of Prevocational Instructors only.

Yours faithfully,

for Director of Public Instruction.

VIII. Ramagovindapuram Higher Elementary School - Kani Giri Range.

One pre-vocational instructor was employed (full time) for the whole year. The number of teachers actually employed was 7 including this instructor. As this exceeds the teacher quotient during all the months in the year except during August and September 1946 during all the months in the year except during August and September 1946 specific orders for exceeding the limit should be obtained with reference to Rule 4(3) of the Grant-in-aid Code relating to Elementary Education.
