The policy of the Govt. has been to rely on the local bodies and private agencies for the opening of schools. The Govt maintain ^{elementary} schools under their direct control only in the Agency Districts and in places where neither the local body nor the private agency come forward to open schools. In the circumstances the answer to the question may be in the negative -

2. The number of Secondary schools under Govt management is limited - Boys schools specially intended for Muslims & girls schools - intended for Muslims as well as for others. The Rebrandment & Reorganisation Committee has recommended that if any local body or private management comes forward and undertakes to maintain a secondary school under Govt management, it should be enabled to do so. The recommendation is under the consideration of Govt

There is no ban on the starting of new colleges by private agencies, but those colleges will not be eligible for equipment or ~~building~~ building grants. They will be eligible only for teaching grants. The question of removing the ban on the sanctioning of equipment and building grants to private colleges is under consideration.

The policy of Govt is not to permit Dist. Boards and municipalities to incur expenditure on the establishment and maintenance of colleges. ~~The question whether this should be removed is now under consideration~~

The question as to whether this policy needs revision is under consideration —
