Sub: Education - Charitable Endowments - Constituent Assembly of India - Legislative - starred Question No.5 to be asked by Mr.R.K. Sidhva.

Ref: Your letter No.12676-63/49-2 Edn. received in this office on the 22nd Feb. 1949.

I have the honour to furnish the following particulars on the above question:-

The endowments for encouragement of education in this University ~~xxx~~ given by charitable persons are only in the form of scholarships, awarded under conditions accepted, for prosecuting higher courses of studies, and they have been founded by individual persons or by committees consisting of subscribers to such memorial funds.

(1) The number of such endowments founded by individual persons is 17. The present capital value under these endowments (amounts invested in Government Securities) is Rs.2,57,450/- and the annual interest accrued thereunder and spent for the scholarships is Rs.7,723-3-0.

(2) The number of endowments founded by committees or Associations is nine. The present capital value under these endowments (amounts invested in Government Securities) is Rs.1,12,650/- and the annual interest accrued thereunder spent for the scholarships is Rs.3,379-8-0.

Six of the endowments included in (1) above are earmarked for specified communities, viz., Indian Christians, Hindus, Non-Brahmin Hindus, and Brahmins. The value of the capital of these endowments is Rs.95,900/-. Two of those included in (2) above are earmarked for Hindu women and the Thiyya community. The value of the capital of these endowments is Rs.41,150/-.

One student eligible under the terms of each endowment gets the scholarship as and when it falls vacant.

Endowments instituted for award of prizes and medals, on the results of University Examinations and Lectureships are not included in the above as well as ~~xxxxx~~ two donations for a College of Technology and a Chair in Tamil.

With reference to your letter quoted above, I am to state that it is not quite clear from the question whether information in regard to only permanent endowments, the interest on which is utilised for granting fellowships etc., is required or whether even contributions received annually and used for such purposes should also be included. Information under both heads are therefore given below:-

Clause (a) of the question:

- I. The total amount of permanent endowments the interest on which is being utilised for granting scholarships, studentships, fellowships etc. is Rs.2,98,056.
- II. The total amount of contributions and donations received during the year 1947-48 is Rs. 3,62,956. (Rs 3,62,956)

Clause (b) of the question:

The above endowments, donations and contributions have not been earmarked for the education of particular communities. The University has since been offered an endowment for the grant of a stipend to a poor deserving Andhra Brahmin lady student of the IV M.B.B.S. class and this is under consideration.

Clause (c) of the question:

- 22 students under clause (a) I above.
- 9 students under clause (a) II above.

The Registrar, University of Madras has however, excluded endowments relating to prizes & medals. There does not appear to be any reason why endowments for these should not be taken into account. He orders whether the Registrar may be asked to furnish these figures as well -

The Registrar, Annamalai University has besides giving figures of the foundation fund of Rs 20 lakhs, mentioned the buildings, equipment, books and donations of land and money - The amount of endowments according to the statement furnished by the Registrar, comes to over Rs 53 lakhs. It is for consideration the figures given for the Annamalai University should be accepted or whether the value of buildings & lands made over to the Contributions (e.g. from the Maharaja of Travancore) may not be excluded.

The Registrar, Andhra University

University has included the figures of Donations and Contributions received in 1947-48 and the students benefited thereby. These cannot be called endowments - It is for order whether these figures
may be omitted -

May be omitted
