In the G.Os cited, Government have declared 26th and 27th of January and 30th January 1950 as public holidays on account of the celebration of the inauguration of the Republic of India and Mahatma Gandhi's death anniversary respectively. Of the three days only 27th January is the weekly holiday for the Museum Galleries and the Connemara Public Library being Friday, while the other two days are working days. In view of the great national importance of these days, we consider that 26th and 30th January may be declared holidays for these two institutions also. We therefore request Government to permit us to close the Museum and the Connemara Public Library to the Public on these two days.

Early orders in the matter are solicited.

Yours faithfully,

A. Aiyappan
Superintendent.
