Dear Mr. Madhava Menon,

I wonder if you remember I put some time ago a series of questions regarding the provision made for languages in the various Government Colleges. There is no doubt that Tamil was pushed up at the expense of other Dravidian languages and Sanskrit. I shall feel grateful to you if you kindly obtain particulars of languages taught under Parts II and III in each Government College and the number of pupils receiving instruction in each language.

Get this

Than again there is the question of lecturerships which affect the existing personnel. For example if a lecturership is created in one language the person teaching that language automatically becomes a lecturer however much junior he or she may be while an Asst.Lecturer in a language even though senior to all other Asst.Lecturers continues in the same position. You may know this has happened in the Queen' Mary's College. Srimathi Devaki Menon, Seniormost Assistant Lecturer teaching Sanskrit become a Junior to a Junior Assistant Lecturer in Tamil when a lecturership was created for Tamil and the Assistant Lecturer in Tamil became automatically a Lecturer. This is very anamolous. A Lectuership should be created for languages and not for a language. The Seniormost Assistant Lecturer in Languages should become the Lecturer and the head of the Language Section. You can realise the predicament of Srimathi Devaki Menon in the Queen Mary's College. But this unfortunate position has been there for some time and is causing discontent and heart-burning. Therefore, I would suggest for your consideration a general rule lecturerships should be for languages and the Seniormost Assistant Lecturer in any language whould become the Lecturer and the Head of the Languages Section. Where there is more than one lecturership they will rank according to seniority and the Seniormost becomes the Head of the Languages Section.

A

As regards the Queen Mary's College, may I respectfully suggest lectuererships may be created for Sanakrit, Telugu and Malayalam also if necessary. The Particulars referred to by me in para ~~one~~ when obtained will assist you in this regard. As far as girl pupils are concerned, Queen Mary's College stands on the same footing as the Presidency College for Boys.

Moreover, I would like you to consider if it is proper and just to create lectureerships for a subject on the basis of numerical strength.

Trusting you will give these points your kind and favourable consideration,

I have the honour to state that till 1947 Madras Educational Service posts had been created only in subjects which were taught upto the Degree standard under Part III of the course and I am not aware of the special circumstances in which Madras Educational Service posts in certain languages were created in 1947- vide Government Order 1028 Education dated 16-5-47. Presumably these gazetted posts were created as a recognition of the importance of the Regional language in the new set up. I consider that in future Madras Educational Service posts should be created only if the subject is taught under Part III of the Degree course. Since there is no Part III Sanskrit in the Queen Mary's College, the question of having a Madras Educational Service Post in Sanskrit does not arise.

The D.P.I. is accordingly requested to make necessary proposals to the Govt, with the full financial implications worked out. The matter should be treated as specially urgent. Please see Sri Suryanarana Rao's letter on p.1 c.f. and the remarks of H.M.(E.& L.) thereon. The particulars referred to in para 1 of Sri Rao's letter were called for in connection with a Legislative Assembly question and will be found on page 3 n.f. of G.O.No.1150, Edn. dated 18-4-49. The figures relate to 1948-49, but it may be taken that there may not be much variation between these figures and the figures for this year.

x other than English

As regards Lecturers in Languages,x the position is as follows:-

Lecturers or Professors in Madras Edl. Service have been sanctioned for the Colleges mentioned below:-

(1) Presidency College, Madras - Sanskrit, Tamil and Telugu.
(2) Arts College, Rajahmundry. - Telugu.
(3) Arts College, Anantapur - Telugu.
(4) Arts College, Kumbakonam - Tamil.
(5) ,, Coimbatore - Tamil
(6) College, Palghat. - Malayalam.
(7) Brennen College, Tellicherry - Malayalam.
(8) Govt. College, Mangalore - Kannada.
(9) Govt. Arts College, Madras - Arabic and Urdu.
(10) Queen Mary's College, Madras - Tamil.

The Professorship in Sanskrit in the Presidency College and the Lecturership in Arabic in the Govt. Arts College, Madras, were sanctioned long ago. The other posts i.e. Professorships in Tamil and Telugu and lecturerships in Telugu, Malayalam, Kannada and Urdu were sanctioned in the years 1947 and 1948. These posts were sanctioned in furtherance of the policy of Govt. to create M.E.S. posts in regional languages. In this connection the D.P.I. stated as follows:-

p10 of © GoMs. 1523 Edn / 1.6.48

"The languages departments have not so far been given its proper claim in the scheme of Education. The importance of the languages can be recognized only when the pay and the status of the lecturers teaching in languages are brought on a par with those in other subjects. Language is now compulsory in both the Intermediate and B.A. classes and though the staff employed in the teaching of languages in those classes do equally responsible work as others in other subjects, they are denied the scales of pay allowed to the other members of the teaching staff."

No fixed principle seems to have been followed in sanctioning M.E.S. posts in languages, but the existence of the provision for teaching the language as an optional subject seems to have been one of the considerations in sanctioning these posts.

Coming to the case of Srimathi Devaki Menon referred to by Mr. R. Suryanarayana Rao, it is submitted that such anomalies cannot be avoided so long as the existing structure of the M.E.S. rules stands. According to these rules posts connected with particular subjects are regarded as constituting separate units and recruitments are made to each Unit separately. (e.g.) ~~That is~~, supposing there is a vacancy of a lecturer in the Physics Unit; it is not the seniormost Asst. Lecturer in the Subordinate Service as a whole that is promoted but it is only the seniormost Asst. Lecturer qualified in Physics that is promoted. Such promotions are quite common in the M.E.S. both in the Men's and Women's Branches. In the Q.M.C., itself, such promotions have been made in the ~~post~~ past and Mrs. Devaki Menon has not made any complaint. If Mr. Rao's suggestion at 'A' on p.1 c.f. is accepted it can be applied to 'Sciences' also and the whole structure of the M.E.S. Rules will have to be altered. There may be a case for sanctioning a lecturer's post in Sanskrit in the Q.M.C. if the subject is taught as an Optional under Part ~~II~~ III. Till then there is no case for sanctioning a Lecturer's post in Sanskrit and Mrs. Menon cannot have any complaint that her claims have been overlooked.

Lectureships can only be created, when there is the required strength. The question is how this strength is to be ascertained. There is a vicious circle involved in saying there is no strength, when because there is no course provided, the students do not apply for it. How have we assessed the potential strength in similar circumstances, in the past

In the past, no particular principle or procedure was follow~~ed~~ed. Lectureships were created for languages at random, taking, however, into consideration the number of students studying the language ~~and~~ its importance and the fact that it is taught upto the Degree Standard.

vide clause (a) on (B)/11 c.f. in top file

[illegible]

It may ~~there~~ also be noted that it was in view of the following factors that Lectureships came to be sanctioned for language subjects

(1) ~~in view of~~ the increasing importance attached to the study of the regional languages side by side with the dwindling of the importance of English and

(2) ~~in order~~ the need to turn out qualified graduates in those languages to teach them in Secondary Schools.

The figures at page 3 (Flag G) of G.O. (R.G.) would indicate that lectureships mentioned on page 1 have been sanctioned for strengths of 200 and above. With reference to H.M's minute at 'A' ~~above, the~~ on the previous page D.P.I. was asked to submit necessary proposals to start the teaching of Sanskrit as an optional subject for B.A. in the Q.M.C. from July 1950. In his letter dated 17-2-1950 the Director reported that the laws of the University ~~do~~ did not permit ~~the~~ entertaining ~~of~~ applications for affiliation after the due date i.e. 31-10-1949, that even the special provisions in the Laws of the ~~last~~ year University would not apply in the present case as Sanskrit ~~is~~ was not a subject in which other Colleges were not affiliated and that the proposal might therefore be considered in connection with Part II estimates for 1951-52. The Director was then asked whether there was any Women's College in the Madras city or elsewhere where Sanskrit was taught as an optional subject and if not whether ~~was~~ there was not a case for ~~the question~~ requesting the University to admit the application in the present instance as a special case. The Director reports that ~~whether~~ no Women's College is affiliated in Sanskrit under Part III of the B.A. course but that the Sri Kerala Varma Raja College, Trichur, (Men's college) is affiliated in that language for the B.A. under Part III. ~~of the~~ This shows ~~that~~ that that there is a very strong case to request the University to make an exception in this instance and to grant the affiliation as a special case. It may be pointed out here that the Trichur college will hereafter be affiliated to the Travancore University and will not be within the jurisdiction of the Madras University.

In these circumstances, it is for orders whether the University may be ~~addressed~~ requested to admit the application for affiliation of the Q.M.C. as a Part II scheme for 1951-52, as no application was forwarded to the University before 31-10-49 for the affiliation of this subject. Edn deptt however propose to address the University for allowing as a special case, the affiliation of the proposed course in the current year itself. ~~The~~ Particulars regarding the exact amount of affiliation fees and the financial implications ~~in~~ by the way of addl staff and other recurring and non-recurring expenditure etc for teaching Sanskrit as optional for B.A. have not been furnished. It is also not clear whether the proposal cannot be treated as a Part II scheme for 1951-52 as there seems to be no urgency for its introduction in the current year itself. In the circumstances Edn deptt may be requested to obtain orders in circulation including HM (Fin) before ~~and~~ the issue of the draft letter below.
