THE MEMORANDUM SUBMITTED TO THE PREMIER BY THE INTERMEDIATE SEPTEMBER STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MADRAS.

DEPUTY SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT
1 JUL. 1940
EDUCATION AND PUBLIC HEALTH DEPT.

Sir,

We the undersigned elected student representatives submit this Memorandum before the Great You: the present father of the Government with many an expectation, fear of future and affliction instead of pleasure. At the juncture when our darkened future looks us piercely, we believe strongly that this is the only alternative to get rid away from it. Therefore we have no doubt that this memorandum will be made to undergo fair discussions and favourable disposals and thus prove your magnanimity.

We ask with humility to hear sympathetically the mental cry of more than 8000 students who failed among, above 14000 who appeared for the last Intermediate March Examination. We know that there will be no student in the University who is so unfortunate like us. Most of us have passed in two parts and no less have succeeded in only one. It is not because of our brainlessness or lack of reading that we failed in some parts or one. There are numerous inexplicable and unspeakable reasons remain with some of us. How many students have been failed by starvation and poverty? How many intelligent students have fallen unsuccessful owing to unkindest circumstances? Attack of diseases also gave way to failure. So it is a grief-creating mistake to distinguish us less dexterous or less industrious than those who have passed in the examination. But there may be a considerable number of idles and fools among the victorious and the accusation that almost all of them have passed through artificial and corruptive means will be a plain truth.

Whatever may be the cause of our failure an examination again in September can be considered a fit punishment for us. The matter that such a punishment will surely be survived by our majority is decisive. Certainly most of us will pass in the ensuing examination. Though it is justifiable in one way or other that we are disqualified for higher studies of the University when we have only partial success, it is deplorably an extreme injustice towards us to make it so, even when we achieve complete success. We pass~~ed~~ the Intermediate when we get passe~~d~~ in all ~~subjects~~ parts. Again the necessity to wait for nine long months for higher College admission is an unnecessity. A long rest like that will terribly affect us and depress our future pitifully.

First of all it makes a precious year utterly useless. At this time when the average age of an Indian has descended from 27 to 25 the butchery of more than 8000 years of more than 8000 students is unthinkably suicidal. The dreadful reality that the 8000 years which we lose is drawing the country to 8000 years back cannot be hidden. How many students have committed suicide not only due to failure but also due to the agony in losing one year? Such sorrowful stories have been emulated in Bombay and Calcutta also. If there had been any University course for gaining one year so many a soul would have been saved from such extreme acts.

The majority of us are youths of no self control. During the months when they have no study, they leave the rightful path and become propagating agents of awful nation-killing-diseases. At this time the unmatured mentality make them nuisances to home and society. Thus without constitution of character, build of conduct and sense of responsibility they offer themselves prey to serious moral degradation. Is not the perishing of our University students this way disgraceful and discreditful to the University?

The life of the students for the nine months after the September examination is wasted. They go out of path and wander from street to street like rope-freed bullocks with no regard to self respect and dignity. A misconduct of this sort is irreparably ever affecting on the future. It creates a pole - to -pole distance between the students and the books. It is well known that the command of languages and knowledge of subjects ~~are~~ of the students who have passed the September examination, will be extremely and lamentably poor when they come to College next year.

Today communism is the most formidable enemy of our nation. It has been spreading everywhere like wild fire. We believe that the University authorities might not have known the cause for spreading communism among College students. The communists who are interested in exploitation attract the students who stand simply after the September examination and give abetment to them to read communist books which are the cheapest in the market. Thus by advice and instigation they make countless College students their tools and extract the capital out of them. The students who thus become the puppet propagandists of communism again when they come to College take initiative and give support to their co-students for unwanted and unfair strikes. It is quite obvious that the chaos and strikes that have been occurred in the Intermediate class are the results of the work of the higher class students.

The cause for all the abovementioned naked, destructive and venomous fact is the no-control life of the nine months. To protect the students by making that period useful is the foremost duty of the University. The truth that the students are not for the University but the University is for the students is unforgettable. We anticipate much for us from an independant University of an independant country.

The matter of the women students is the most deplorable. India is back in her women education. About 95 per cent of the lady students are sent to Colleges not according to the will of their parents but of their compulsion and insuppressible desire. The Indian mentality is such that when they fail in the Intermediate class their parents force them to marriages and send them out of Colleges. Thus the progress of women education is largely checked only because of a mere failure. This painful fact can be seen clearly if the authorities will keep their eye-lids at least half open. We do not find fault with the parents for taking such steps, for they fear the consequences of keeping their daughters home for a long year. Had there been a University course for continuing the studies without interruption nothing would have

Sub: UNIVERSITY - Introduction of courses for students who pass the Intermediate Examination in September.

I am directed to enclose a copy of a Memorandum from certain students and to state that the contentions therein seem to have force. I am to ask whether it will be possible for the University to consider the question of allowing students who pass the September examination to appear for the College examination at the end of the academic year, irrespective of the prescribed attendance. For SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT.

Copy of the Memorandum submitted to the Premier by the Intermedi September Students of the University of Madras.

At the juncture when our darkened future looks as piercely, we believe strongly that this is the only alternative to get rid away from it. authorities will keep their eye-lids at least half open. We do not find fault with the parents for taking such steps, for they fear the consequences of keeping their daughters home for a long year. Had there been a University course for continuing the studies without interruption nothing would have been happened to the progress of the women education.

Today free India is in need of numberless graduates. We count the horrible sacrifice of many hundred years of the students who are urging to do their duty to the country and make the civil life beautiful; for a mere reason that they failed in the March examination is a wild treachery to the motherland.

Madras University deserves a first rank among others great Universities of India. This University stands as a lesson and model to several other growing universities.

To introduce a new course for higher studies is no strange one to this University. Because con-current course was in existence formerly here. If such a concurrent course could be introduced in the name of the emergency of a foreign Government, why it is not possible to re-introduce it in the name of the pressing necessity of free India or for the protection of the students, subjected to destruction.

There are several seats vacant in many colleges under the University for group III. Though we do not feel it difficult for the 'Omnipotent' University to carry out a new course, if the University authorities feel so; we request the authorities to increase the number of seats and do the needful to admit those who come out successful in the September examination. The protection extended to the drowning students is the protection given to the future citizens as well as generation. We are ready to pay any fees to the University or to Colleges. If we are admitted to the B.A. class we assure the University that we shall show brilliant and rapid progress and get the entire satisfaction of all. When the September F.L. students of the University of Travancore are allowed to join for the ensuing March B.L. Public examination, our desire to get admission in a class which has no publicm examination,is only legal and rightful. We have firmness ness that the University which has given many a consideration to the sons and daughters of Maharaja's will surely grant the request of us - the common people. Thus we boldly believe that the University and the Government will make our future safe.

We expect great things from the Great You. We know that your magnanimity and mercy will in no way disregard our lawful needs.

Our reppect and humility to you.

I have the honour to inform you that the Syndicate, on the recommendation of a Special Committee, resolved to recommend to the Colleges to start the Concurrent courses from October 1944 for the benefit of students who passed the Intermediate Examination of this University in September 1944. The scheme was tried as an experimental measure for a period of three years at the end of which a report was to be called for from Principals of Colleges where such courses were conducted.

In the first year (viz. from October 1944) the total number of students who joined colleges for the concurrent courses was 430 and in the next year from October 1945 the number was 304.

In view of the increased admissions that were sanctioned to the several colleges for admission of regular students for the academic year 1946-47 (July 1946) the Syndicate at its meeting in July 1946 ~~xxxxx~~ resolved that the question of continuance of the concurrent course may be left to the discretion of the Principal of each college concerned after taking into consideration the increased numbers that have been admitted into the various classes and the desirability and feasibility of arranging any concurrent course from October 1946.

With the exception of one college where only 64 students joined in October 1946 for the concurrent courses, all other colleges replied that it was not possible to conduct the Concurrent course in October 1946, as they did not find it possible to provide the necessary ~~facilities~~ facilities for conducting the course.

There was need for the continuance of the extra number and the increase in the number of batches in Science subjects in the colleges in subsequent years.

As the scheme was to be tried as an experimental measure for three years, the Syndicate considered the question of continuance or otherwise of the Concurrent course from October 1947 and resolved that as the course had not proved a success, and in view of the large admissions ~~in July~~ to Colleges in July of each year, the concurrent course need not be continued and that the Principals be informed accordingly.

In view of what has been stated above it would appear that the Colleges have not found it possible to conduct the Concurrent course in October side by side with the regular course commencing from July each year on account of several difficulties, such as accommodation, staff, equipment, etc.

Yours faithfully,

I am to inform you that the Syndicate considered your letter cited above at its last meeting on the 16th and 18th June 1950.

It is of opinion that the starting of separate classes for those who pass the Intermediate examination in September will involve the holding of two examinations in the year and that it will complicate the University Examinations, while the admission of these candidates in the Junior classes in October will involve practical difficulties. The University is not therefore in favour of either of the above two alternatives.

The students request that for the benefit of the ~~students~~ candidates who come out successful in the Intermediate Examination in the September Examination, a concurrent course may be opened in the colleges, so that the inconvenience and the evils of their being made to wait now for more than 9 months (.i.e till the next academic year) may be avoided. ~~Such a course was in existence in some of the colleges during some time ago.~~ The question of ~~reviving~~ opening concurrent course it is one that relates to the University and the various colleges affiliated to it. Govt. cannot do anything in the matter. The students may be informed that they should address the University in the matter and that the Govt. cannot do anything in the matter. May be circulated to Mn (E&L) and Hon'ble H.Pr.with reference to ~~the~~ latter orders extracted above, ~~through H.M.(Edn).~~

I do not think we should absolve ourselves entirely from consideration of the question raised that more than 8000 students who have failed, will be condemned to inactivity if they pass the September examination and are not admitted immediately to further courses of studies. The Universities may be autonomous bodies but Government is concerned that all available man power is duly utilised and not allowed to be wasted or depressed.

There may be practical difficulties in providing courses of studies for these students in the mid year. It may be possible to overcome this by (1) allowing the students to join the existing classes with the condition that they will be allowed to appear for the college examination only conditional on their passing the September Public examination; (2) selected colleges may be able to run courses simultaneously for the boys who pass in September as for those who pass in the usual way; (3) the procedure followed in respect of students who fail in ~~April~~ Law can be adopted, the boys being allowed to appear for the ~~ex~~ college examination irrespective of their attendance. It will be for the Universities to consider the practical issues. It is recommended that the application may be referred to all the three Universities for due consideration in view of the necessity of helping the students to avoid wasting their time and forgetting what they have learnt during the waiting period after the September examinations.

With reference to the suggestion No. (3) at p. 2 ante, it has since been verified that there is no provision in the Regulations of the University of Madras, permitting candidates who have failed in the F.L. Examination to proceed to the B.L. Degree Examination, nor is there any provision under which they may not wait for a full year before they are admitted to the B.L. Degree course. ~~However the question of students being permitted to appear for the~~ ~~all~~ ~~B.L. Degree~~ ~~Examination irrespective of their attendance may also be put in to the Universities~~. Hence no reference is made to the Law Courses in the draft below.

It is clear from the reports of the three Universities that they are against the idea of running concurrent courses for the benefit of the September students, as there is a very heavy pressure for admission of students to Colleges for the July course itself, ~~which it is not possible to meet~~. Sub:- University - Introduction of courses for the benefit of Intermediate September students - Running of been happened to the progress of the women education.

Today free India is in need of numberless graduates. We count the horrible sacrifice of many hundred years of the students who are urging to do their duty to the country and make the civic life beautiful; for a mere reason that they failed in the March examination as a wild treachery to the motherland.

Madras University deserves a first rank among other great Universities of India. This University stands as a lesson and model to several other growing universities. .

To introduce a new course for higher studies is no strange one to this University. Because con-current course was in existance formerly here. If such a con-current course could be introduced in the name of the emergency of a foreign Government, why it is not possible to re-introduce it in the name of the pressing necessity of free India or for the protection of the students, subjected to destruction.

There are several seats vacant in many colleges under the University for group III. Though we do not feel it difficult for the 'Ominipotent' University to carry out a new course, if the University authorities feel so; We request the authorities to increase the number of seats and do the needful to admit those who come out successful in the September examination. The protection extended to the downing students is the protection given to the future citizens as well as generation. We are ready to pay any fees to the University or to Colleges. If we are admitted to the B.A. class we assure the University that we shall show brilliant and rapid progress and get the entire satisfaction of all. When the September F.L.students of the University of Travancore are allowed to join for the ensuing March B.L. Public examination, our desire to get admission in a class which has no public examination is only legal and rightful. We have firmness that the University which has given many a consideration to the sons and daughters of Maharajahs will surely grant the request of us - the common people. Thus we boldly believe that the University and the Government will make our future safe.

We expect great things from the Great You. We know that your magnanimity and mercy will in no way disregard our lawful needs.
