This is in continuation of Dr. Sathaye's letter of the 31st October, in reply to yours, No.F.4-2/47-O.D.IV, of the 18th October, regarding Mr. M.D.Menon, 1947 Madras scholar.

I sent you a cable yesterday, informing you that the Marine Biological Association of the United Kingdom, are willing to accept this scholar at their laboratory at Plymouth, from early next year. They make it clear that theirs is a Research Laboratory, and scholars cannot expect anything in the nature of direct tuition. Scholars who come there are expected to be capable of doing research on their own, "but of course have the benefit of advice and interest from members of the scientific staff".

Would you kindly let us know as soon as possible, if Mr. Menon would be joining this laboratory?

I have been relieved from Krusadai Island on 20-1-48. I am going to United Kingdom not on study leave and hence not as a departmental candidate. I do not own a microscope or dissection microscope. They are costly and difficult to be got in India as well. Since I am not a departmental candidate I will not be able to get a microscope and dissection microscope from the Fisheries Department. In these circumstances I request that the High Commissioner for India may kindly be asked to sanction the necessary cost for purchase of these microscopes from United Kingdom itself. Microscopes are usually got from Overseas and as such it will be cheaper to purchase them from England itself. After my use they may be treated as stated in sub-para (ix) Para 16 of the G.O.M.S.NO.1811 Edn. dated 12-8-47.

I also request that the High Commissioner may kindly be informed of the payments to be given to me on my arrival in England.

I beg to remain,
Sir,
Your obedient Servant

I am directed to refer to your letter dated the 23rd June, 1947 in which the selection of a Madras Government scholar, Mr. M.D. Menon was communicated to this Office Efforts were made to secure admission for Mr. Menon at the various institutions recommended by the sponsoring authorities. Unfortunately these efforts were not successful, and he was, eventually accepted for research work as a voluntary worker at the Marine Biological Association of the United Kingdom.

From M. Devidas Menon, Plymouth.

To The High Commissioner for India, Dept. of Education. London.

Sir,

I beg to place the following facts for your kind consideration and favourable disposal.

(1) I have been placed to work in the Marine Biological Station, Plymouth to study Fisheries. I accepted this station without knowing the full details of the conditions prevailing here . I find that this Biological Station is not doing any work in Fisheries and is interested only in academic research on problems having no relationship with Fisheries. Neither is there any sort of help or guidance or instruction from anyone. Under these conditions one is left helpless to know as to what one should do. I earnestly solicit that I am fixed up in some other institution doing research on Fisheries problems like Port Erin or Lowestoft or Aberdeen or Hull or Newcastle. If I am to continue at Plymouth I must confess here that I will be doing some work which will have perhaps no bearing on Fisheries.

(2) If it is not possible to fix me up at any of the places aforesaid I request I may be placed in a Canning Factory (Fish) for 4 months, then in a Fish Meat and manufacturing for 3 months, then in a Fish refrigeration factory for 2 months and then at the Nautical School, Grimsby for 6 months. I presume that this will be quite easy to do and at the same time I will be learning all that we would need in the economic aspect of the industry.

Yours sincerely,

Copy on p71 [illegible] Please refer to this Office letter dated the 23rd March, 1948. We have carefully examined Mr. Menon's representation, and have come to the conclusion that it will be advisable to put him on a University course. The Birkback College of London University has agreed to accept him for research work for a period of two years, and Professor Hobson of Durham University may also agree to accept him after personal interview. Under the circumstances the best thing is to change his instruction which will be to the student's benefit. I presume that the Provincial Government and the Central Government will have no objection as their original desire was to send this man to University, but no admission was possible, and therefore the offer of voluntary work at the Marine Biological Association at Plymouth was accepted. It now appears that Mr. Menon must work under somebody's supervision.

In continuation of this Office letter No. E.B.945 dated the 14th March, I am directed to state that Dr. F.S.Russel, Director of the Marine Biological Association of the U.K., has written to recommend Mr. Mannath Devidas Menon for one month's extension of scholarship.

Mr. Menon arrived in this country on the 26th February, and owing to some uncertainty at the beginning as to where he was going to work, he could not really get down to his research until the beginning of April. In view of this Dr. Russell recommends that his scholarship should be extended by one month to allow him a month 's study tour on the Continent in order to make full use of his opportunities there. Dr. Russell has further suggested that he would be able to arrange for the necessary facilities for this tour through his own contacts on the continent.

The Director further recommends that a special grant of £.50 for travelling be sanctioned for Mr. Menon in addition to the £.100 available for his study tours during the two years of his scholarship in this country. He feels that in order to acquire the necessary experience Mr. Menon will have to tour extensively, visiting laboratories in this country as well as on the Continent. He has already spent a good part of the money available for him and without this additional grant Mr. Menon may not be able to take advantage of the opportunities available.

In view of Dr. Russell's recommendation, this Office supports Mr. Memon's application for an extension as well as for a special grant £.50 travelling allowance.

With reference to your letter No. F.4/9/S.2/47/S.2 dated the 18th April, 1949 regarding Mr. Mannath Devidas Menon, I am to inform you that at one time the question of transferring hi to either the Birkbeck College or Kings College, Newcastle on Tyne was raised as it was felt that it would be desirable for Mr.Menon to proceed to a University for a Degree Course. Afte considerable correspondence, it was finally decided on the authority of the Cablegram dated the 25th March 1948 from the Education and Public Health Department, Madras to allow Mr. Menon to continue with his research at the Marine Biological Association of the United Kingdom, The Laboratory, Plymouth. this office letter No. EB.945 dated the 5th May, 1948 refers. The Provincial Government were also informed of this arrangement on the same day.

Apart from the research, Mr. Menon, would, from time to time, undertake educational visits for the purpose of practical training but his main interest would be his research work. It was also pointed out that Mr. Menon would not be registered for any University.

This programme had the approval of your Ministry, ~~fxx~~ referen your letter No. F.4/2/S.2/47/S.2 dated the 29th April, 1948. From your cablegram dated the 28th May 1948, it was observed that you still desired his transfer to a University.

In consultation with Dr. Russell of the Plymouth Laboratory and in view of the fact that the institutions required that t student should spend at least two full years for the Ph.D. degree course, which would be beyond Mr. Menon's scholarship period, it was decided to allow him to continue his work at t Plymouth Laboratory.

Since the Govt of India & the High Commissioner report that "such instruments are scarce in this country," it might perhaps be made sure that the necessary instruments could be secured at a reasonable price. The programme of studies originally suggested for the scholar is a two year Course in Fisheries leading to an M.Sc. degree in anyone of the institutions mentioned ~~[illegible]~~ on p1 ante. The offer of the Marine Biological Station, Plymouth was accepted on the advice of the Jt D I & C. In the circumstances now reported by the Scholar and in view of the recommendation of the H.C. for India, London, the Scholar's programme of studies may be arranged as originally suggested (ie) namely admission to a University in the U.K. The alternative suggestion of the H.C. that the Scholar should have practical training at various centres is not acceptable as pure practical training is outside the scope of the Scholarship Scheme.

Attention is invited to the two letters, since added to the C.F. on pp 75-79.

(2) letter of 5.5.48 from the High Commr for India, London.

pp75-77 C.f.

p79 C.f

As stated in this Dept's note on p 9 ante the programme of studies originally suggested for Mr Devidas Menon is a 2 yrs' Course in Fisheries leading to an M.Sc degree in any one of the institutions mentioned on p 1 ante. ~~As admission~~ As Mr Menon could not obtain admission to a University he joined the Marine Biological Assn Laboratory, Plymouth. Mr Menon ~~himself~~ has stated that his work at the Laboratory is not what he wanted and that it has no bearing on Fisheries. It will not therefore appear to be in the best interests of the scholar from the point of view of the employment which he is to take up on return, to continue him in his present work at the Laboratory. Hence, the arrangements suggested in Mr. Kirpal's letter of 13.4.48, on p 77, appear to be preferable as they conform to the original programme of studies drawn up for the scholar. Under these arrangements Mr. Menon will be put on

i.e. in Industries

on a University Course and it is stated that the Birkbeck College of London University has agreed to accept him for research work for a period of 2 yrs. The G of I also state that these arrangements seem to be more satisfactory and they are acceptable to them. The G of I want the final decision of this Govt in the matter for onward transmission to the H.C. But the subsequent letter of 5.5.48, received direct from the High Commr, seems to cancel the arrangement suggested in Mr. Kirpal's letter of 13.4.48. In that letter the High Commr states that as desired by this Govt in their telegram of 25.3.48 Mr Menon has been instructed to continue his research work at the Marine Biological Assn Laboratory that under the direction of the Laboratory the scholar will from time to time undertake all visits & practical training but that he will not be registered for any University degree. These arrangements, as stated above, are not in line with the original programme of studies intended for the scholar and they were approved by this Govt because they appeared to be preferable when the scholar could not get admission to any University. Now that admission to a University is stated to be possible the previous arrangements approved by this Govt may perhaps be revised. If so, the Govt of India may be informed telegraphically that this Govt accept the arrangements proposed in Mr Kirpal's letter of 13.4.48 and to inform the H.C. to make necessary arrangements accordingly in cancellation of the instructions issued ~~in~~ this Govt's telegram of 25.3.48. ~~A copy of the H.C.'s letter of 5.5.48 may be forwarded to the~~ As this scholar is intended to be absorbed in Industries, Industries Section also may offer their remarks in the matter.

2. Sri M. Devidas Menon is a scholar selected in 1947-8 for advanced studies in "Fisheries" and is intended for absorption in Industries (Govt & private enterprise) on return. The Govt at first intended that the scholar should undergo University course in the U.K. for a period of 2 yrs leading to M.Sc degree. However, facilities for University course were not immediately available and the scholar was allowed to do research work with the Marine Biological Assn Laboratory, Plymouth.

Later on the High Commr informed that University course would be possible for the scholar and as it was in line with the original intentions of the Govt, this Govt allowed the

Sri M. Devidas Menon was selected in 1947-8 for advanced studies in 'Fisheries'. He is now doing research work at the Biological Association Laboratories, Plymouth. His scholarship for 2 yrs expires on 25.2.1950. He has applied for a month's extension in order to visit the Continental Fisheries Stations and Laboratories. from the G of I Ministry of Edn — p116 cf
No F.4-2/5.2/47 S2 of 18.11.49 — p120 cf

Please see the note overleaf. Sri M. Devidas Menon has been granted extension in the period of his scholarship by one month from 25.2.1950 for purposes of study tour on the Continent. The G of I will meet half the cost during the period of extension. Scholars in the U.K. were eligible for study tour allowance of £50 per annum. Sri Devidas Menon was therefore eligible for £100 in 2 yrs. In order to undertake one month's tour on the Continent he wanted a total of £150 and this Govt agreed to meet the extra £50 required. The Govt of India have since cancelled payment of study tour allowances and Mr Menon will not therefore get the usual £100 but only the £50 specially agreed to by this Govt. The High Commissioner now asks whether the scholar can be paid £150. The G of I have called for the comments of this Govt. They point out that the extra expr will exceed £50. They seem to be of the view that if this Govt wants the scholar to undertake the study tour this Govt will have to meet the entire cost ~~[illegible]~~ of £150. It is for consideration whether this Govt should meet the expr.

The scholar on return to India is likely to be appointed to the post of Research Officer in charge of one or more Marine Biological Stations where research on Marine fisheries will be conducted. The D I & C was therefore of the opinion that the study tour was essential for the scholar from the point of view of his employment on return.
