You

We are in receipt of your letter above mentioned. /Wish to know whether copy right still subsists with the Govt. in a Govt. publication namely Mr. Thurstone's Castes and Tribes published in or about the year 1908.

We are of the opinion that Government holds the copyright and will continue to hold the copyright for 50 years from the date of publication and anybody infringing the Govt's copyright will be liable. In this connection we give below section 18 and 21 of the Imperial Copyright Act which has been made applicable to India by the Indian Copyright Act 3 of 1914. (Section 18 - without prejudice to any rights or privileges of the Crown, where any work has, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, been prepared or published by or under the direction or control of His Majesty or any Govt. dept. the copyright in the work shall, subject to any agreement with the author, belong to His Majesty, and in such case shall continue for a period of fifty years from the date of the first publication of the work. Section 21 - The term for which copyright shall subsist in photographs shall be 50 years from the making of the original negative from which the photograph was directly or indirectly derived, and the person who was owner of such negative at the time when such negative was made shall be deemed to be the author of the work and where such owner is a body corporate, the body corporate shall be deemed for the purpose of this Act to reside within the parts of His Majesty's Colonies to which this Act extends if it has established a place of business within such parts). Section 18 deals with Govt. publications and section 21 deals with photographs.

of the Archib. Bhavatinga Adm. Jati Sangh, Delhi. A booklet containing photographs from Thurston's "Castes and Tribes of Southern India" with brief foot-notes. As no 'profit motive' is involved in this, Edn. propose to grant permission to reproduce the photographs. The copyright of these photographs would vest with the Govt. for some 8 years more. If the Govt. permit any individual to make use of these photographs from Thurston's volumes.

The purpose of this report is to present the results of the study conducted by the committee on the subject of the proposed changes in the curriculum of the high school.

The committee has held several meetings and has received many suggestions from the faculty and the students. It has also conducted extensive research into the current trends in education and the needs of the community.

It is the opinion of the committee that the proposed changes are necessary to ensure that the high school curriculum is relevant and challenging for the students of today. The committee believes that the proposed changes will provide a more balanced and comprehensive education for all students. It is recommended that the proposed changes be adopted and implemented as soon as possible.
