The draft order may now be sent

In July 1949 H.M.(P.W.) had a discussion with the C.Es., D.P.I. and the Principals of the Govt. Engg. Colleges regarding the practical courses of training that may be introduced for Engg. students in 1949-50 without prejudice to the prescribed courses of study. One of the recommendations made at the Conference was that a series of lectures should be arranged ~~on~~ by visiting Lecturers from the departments and practising Engineers so as to emphasise the practical aspect of Engineering to the students. In pursuance of this recommendation the Principal, Engg. College, Guindy, submitted a proposal to the D.P.I. to appoint Sri G. Srirangachari, Divisional Engineer (Highways) as a visiting Lecturer and to give a series of lectures on Highway Engineering. Before the Director could examine the proposal and submit it to Govt. the Principal permitted Sri Srirangachari to deliver the lectures.

Highway Engineering is one of the courses provided in the Engg. College, Guindy. There is no Professor to teach the subject but only an Instructor. The Instructor at the time, Sri C.G. Swaminathan, had to proceed on deputation for military training and there was no special staff to engage the final Highway Engineering students during the absence of the Instructor. As the Principal did not get orders on his proposal he engaged Sri Srirangachari to deliver the lectures, some of which covered the syllabus for the B.E. course also, in anticipation of orders.

Afterwards the C.E.(Highways) applied to the Govt. in the P.W.D. for granting permission to Sri Srirangachari to deliver the lectures. In the meanwhile the Director had submitted his proposals and they were under ^{the} consideration of Govt. Pending final orders, Sri Srirangachari was permitted ^{with the} concurrence ^{of} Edn. and Finance to deliver the lectures and accept a remuneration of Rs. 35/- per lecture in G.O. No. 3293-P.W., dated 2-9-1950.

The Principal, Engg. College, Coimbatore, also engaged four P.I.I. officers to deliver similar lectures in his college . This also was ratified in G.O.No.3412-P.W., dated 11-9-1950.

One Dr.K.L.Rao, Designs Engineer, P.W.D., delivered some lectures on his subject in the Engg. College, Guindy and it is now proposed to ratify the action of the Principal in having arranged for these lectures also.

The whole question of arranging for these lectures is being treated as a Part II Scheme for 1951-52 and so no expenditure on account of these lectures will be incurred this year. Lest there should be any misapprehension, the Principals of the Engg. Colleges may be informed that the question of appointing Visiting Lecturers is being considered by Govt.
and that pending final orders in the matter no such Visiting Lecturers should be appointed this year.

A revised draft order is submitted.
