In October 1949 the Provincial Council of the Central College of Karnataka Music proposed the appointment of one Srimathi Parvathi as Honorary warden of the college hostel and part-time lecturer in Music (Theory) in the college on a pay of Rs 95/- p.m.; the appointment was to be for the period up to 10.8.50. The Govt thought that she was an outsider like other lecturers in the college and approved the proposal. Please see go No: 3146 Edu of 13.10.49. (E)

The ^{candidate} ~~candidate~~ referred to by the D.P.H. in this file is the same as that referred to in the go. The Principal of the music college should have reported at the time of sending the proposal referred to in the previous para that Srimathi Parvathi was employed as an Asst. Lecturer in a Govt college. It has been ascertained that she is already doing the work of warden of the hostel and that permission is now required only for accepting the remuneration of Rs 95/- p.m. ^{for doing part-time work and the} ~~for~~ this permission may be given. Finance may see.

Please see 2nd note on p 1-2 above. It is presumed that the ~~intention of~~ Srimathi Parvathi has not so far drawn the extra remuneration sanctioned in para 2 of go 3146 Education of 13.10.49. (E) D.P.H. may be requested to verify this from the D.P.O.

2/ The following remarks seem called for in this connection. Srimathi Parvathi is an Assistant Lecturer ^{on Rs 150-250} in the Madras Educational Sub. Service, and it is quite obvious from the facts set out on p 1-2 of Parvathi's above that one full-time Assistant Lecturer & 200% note can, in the normal course, attend to the above work in both the colleges, viz Lady Willingdon Training College for women & Central College of Karnataka music, Madras, and Madras. In this view, the ~~case~~ ^{for doing part-time work in the college} for allowing any extra remuneration is demonstrably ~~weak~~ ^{not}. It may be mentioned in this connection that some of the ^{part} Professors in the Madras Medical College have been sanctioned taking into account the volume of work in the Stanley Medical College ~~College~~ also, and no extra remuneration is allowed to such professors although they teach the students of both the Colleges. The present case is more or less similar, and Finance may advise that no extra pay need be allowed to Srimathi Parvathi for doing part-time work as music lecturer & Honorary Warden in the Central College of Karnataka Music in the City. It is understood that this Central College is being financed ~~entirely~~ ^{by} the Central Govt and this Govt. In the circumstances, her part-time work may be treated as Provincial Contribution for the College, and it is enough at the utmost if she is allowed a ^{allowance} ~~conveyance~~ ^{to} enable her to go there every day. The distance between the two Colleges is about a mile and Public Conveyances are available. ~~Having regard to these facts, it seems sufficient~~ ^{if a conveyance allowance of} The Lady Sub Assistant Surgeon attached to the Queen Mary's College in the City has been allowed a conveyance allowance of Rs 15 pm (+ 25% temporary increase) having due regard to the facts of this case. — See S above — it seems enough if Srimathi Parvathi is allowed a conveyance allowance of Rs 15 pm (without any temporary increase). It may be requested to give orders accordingly.

3/ It, however, it is considered that payment of extra remuneration is more suitable than a conveyance allowance, the remuneration is in the nature of Class II special pay for specific additional duties: Under P.R. 19 (2), (V)(b) special pay should not ordinarily exceed one-fifth of the substantive pay of an officer. Applying this principle, it seems sufficient if the special pay in this case is restricted to one-fifth of the pay of the Srimathi Parvathi.

Some remuneration seems necessary for discharging the duties of Warden of the Hostel & for part-time lecturing work. Rs 75/- p.m. seems reasonable & may be accepted.

This should however be done without prejudice to her normal & legitimate duties as Asst. Lecturer. It is seen that on two of the week-days lectures at the Music College would clash with her duties at the Willingdon Training College, & accordingly the D.P.O. has recommended permission to serve as part-time lecturer only on the remaining 4 days. This recommendation may be put into effect.
