For orders

Please see the note for orders under cover of G.O. No. 28th May 94 no 366 Ed. The statement that when the Misses Parsons were appointed they were required to pass the next L.T. degree examination is not supported by previous papers. They were appointed to the Department in September 1891, passed the L.T. examination in February 1893, & the Vernacular exam. in January 1894.

They are not entitled under the Rules to the allowance but it is for consideration whether under the circumstances a special concession may be made and then favour 18/7/95

The statement that they were required to pass the next L.T. exam. is positive & is more than probable. I think the relaxation may be allowed

(Through the Superintendent Presidency Training School for Mistresses).

Sir,

I beg you will be pleased to move Government to favourably reconsider their order No. 366 Educational dated 20 May 1894 - passed on the requests of my sister and myself for Munschi allowance for passing the half yearly vernacular examination held in January 1894.

2. In submitting our original application we omitted to bring to the notice of the late Acting Director that our going up for the L.I. examination instead of the vernacular examination during our first year of service was compulsory and in obedience to the orders of the Director of Public Instruction. It is probable that owing to our omitting to state this fact that our request was rejected.

To

THE HONORABLE THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

FORT ST. GEORGE.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit, for the favourable consideration of Government, a application from Miss P. F. Parsons, B.
L.T., First Assistant, Presidency Training school for Mistresses, Madras, requesting reconsideration of the orders passed in G.O. No. 366, dated, 20 May 1894, declining to sanction Munshi allowance for herself and her sister Miss J. Parsons, the Second Assistant of the same school for having passed the Compulsory Vernacular Test in January 1894

2. Under rule 6 of the Notification, N^o 21, dated, 20 April 1888, prescribing tests and rules for the study of oriental languages by European and Eurasian officers of the Educational department, the munshi allowances can be granted only to those who pass the Vernacular Test within one year from the date of entry into service. These two ladies entered service in the Presidency Training school in September 1891 and passed the Vernacular Test in January 1894, more than two years after. In para 6 of his letter to Government, dated, 29 June 1891, N^o 7435, submitting proposals for constituting a regular upper secondary department in the the Presidency Training school and recommending increase of staff and salary, Mr. Grigg proposed the appointment of these two graduates in the school, conditional on their passing the (next) L. F. degree Examination. It was, therefore, not left to their option whether they should ^{prepare for} ~~take~~ the L. F. Examination or the Vernacular Test during the first year of their service. They, accordingly, appeared for and passed the L. F. Examination in January 1893 and the Vernacular Test in January 1894, (ie) within one year from the date of their qualifying for the L. F. degree. It will thus be seen that January 1894 was the earliest date by which they could have passed the Vernacular Test, without, at the same time, failing to fulfil the condition imposed upon them in the order appointing them. I am, therefore, strongly of opinion that Rule 6 of the Notification referred to above may be relaxed in their case and request that the Munshi allowance of Rs 240 each allowable thereunder may be sanctioned for them.
