To

THE HONORABLE THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,

FORT ST. GEORGE.

SIR,

I have the honour to state in reply to G.O., dated, 14th ultimo, N^o. 862, Educational, that, for administrative educational purpose
this Presidency is divided into four circles comprising nine divisions as follows:-

Northern Circle { 1st Division - Ganjam and Vizagapatam.
2^d - Godavari and Kistna.

Central Circle { 3^d Division - Bellary, Anantapur, Buddapur and Tumacoor
4th - Nellore, Madras and Shinglepur

Southern Circle { 5th Division - North Arcot and South Arcot.
6th - Tanjore and a portion of Madras
7th - Tinnevely and the other portion of Madras

Western Circle { 8th Division - Coimbatore, Trichinopoly and Salem
9th - Malabar and South Canara
The Nilgiris under the direct control of the Inspector

the distribution of Circles and Divisions sanctioned in 1888 had to be changed, as above, in July last, and experience may necessitate further distribution. I am, therefore, of opinion that, for the purposes of the Government of India Resolution communicated with the G. O., quoted above, it would be most expedient to divide the Districts of the Presidency into six groups as follows:-

- Group i — Goujanu, Vizagapatam, Godavari and Krishna - known as the northern circars.
- ii — Buddapah, Bellary, Anantapur and Kurnool, or the beded Districts.
- iii — Nellore, Madras, Chingleput, North Arcot and South Arcot - which may be known as the "central districts".
- iv — Tanjore, Trichinopoly, Madura and Tinnevely - the districts to the south of the Coleroon, which may be called, "Southern districts".
- v — Coimbatore, Nilgiris and Salem - or, say the "inland districts".
- vi — Malabar and South Canara, - the districts on the west coast, which may be called the "West Coast districts".

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. S. S. S.
Director Public Instruction
