To

The Officiating Adjutant General Madras Army
Cotacamund.

SIR,

Referring to your letter, no. $\frac{na}{15}$, dated, the 5th ultimo, I have the honour to state that there is nothing in the rules to prevent Army schools from receiving grants from Provincial funds, provided they conform in all respects to the Madras Educational Rules and to the provisions of the Grant-in-aid Code. However as the admission of Army schools to aid in the Grants-in-aid system would involve an extra charge on the funds of this Department, I would not be prepared to recommend this step to Government, unless the Government sees its way to increase funds that that purpose the Grants-in-aid allotment now sanctioned.

I have the honour to be etc

Army & school & aid's get grants for Provincial funds unless they can prove in all respects to the M. L. R. rules & the provisions of the Grant-in-aid code and unless Govt. agrees to find more money for Grants in aid. I don't know how much more money will be wanted a reference to the D. P. R. will be necessary, & probably long correspondence will follow before the matter was settled.
I find that the D. P. R. gives no formation of this kind to the Ad. Gen. in his letter of the 11th Feb No 1510

With the above current a Draft of Revised rules for Native Army Schools is referred for remarks.

Paras 8 and 9 of the revised rules are new and have reference to grants under the Grant-in-aid Code. So the question to be considered is whether Native Army Schools can be aided under the Grant-in-aid Code.

To become eligible for aid under the Grant-in-aid Code, Schools will have first to be recognized under Section II of the Madras Educational rules and must follow the course of instruction prescribed in Section V of the Madras Ed. Rules.

Native Army Schools have a course of instruction of their own and their working is governed by Special Regulations. Further these Army Schools are Govt. institutions to which the Grant-in-aid Code is not applicable. In these circumstances it is submitted, Native Army Schools cannot be aided under the Grant-in-aid Code.

The Code cannot apply to them unless they are specially exempted under para 1 of Section III of the Educational Rules, & no case has been shown for such exemption. The burden of proof lies on the Military Department

Therefore submitted that the Military Dept should be informed that the Grant-in-aid Code does not apply to Native Army schools maintained by Govt.
