His Excellency

The Governor of Madras.

May it please your Excellency,

With due respect and profound submission I beg leave to bring the following humble lines to your Excellency's kind and benign consideration and to present me the request herein prayed for.

Viewing that an addition in the field of education a great boon to the public at large and a source of unalloyed pleasure to the humble undertaker to find his low efforts approved of and appreciated by the public, I undertook the task of compiling a book humble though it is, calculated to be of use to the Candidates whose Vernacular is Malayalam.

(2) The compilation "Kerala Kuralayanandam" it is called is a book containing all the figures of speech in Sanskrit (Artha Alankaram) explained and exemplified in Malayalam verses.

(3) As questions are being asked in the University Examinations on this subject, such a work, as placed before your Excellency, will be of great use to the Candidates and it is this thought that embarked me in this enterprise.

(4) I got printed at my own expense thousand copies four hundred of which a ready sale. That this work is of much use to the Malayalam Candidates is an undoubted fact.

To convince your Excellency of this I herewith submit ten copies of the same which I humbly hope your Excellency will be graciously pleased to forward them to the learned University Examiners in Malayalam and secure their valuable opinions on the work.

(5) This will find a readier sale and will be a boon in the ^{cause} ~~cause~~ of education, if introduced by orders of the Government. Therefore I am glad to sell my ~~copy~~ copy-right of the book to the Government in exchange for which I will be glad to receive price of the remaining six hundred copies which were not sold at 8 as a copy. The real price of a copy is 12 as and this was the price at which the four hundred copies were sold. I, no doubt, by this transaction, yet I am glad to make this sacrifice of self interest on my part, because my enterprise had been purely a labour of love.

(6) Finally I humbly and submissively request your Excellency first to gain certain information of it and then to purchase the copy right from me for an act of beneficence to the public as well as myself be greatly obliged.

I beg to remain

May it please your Excellency

Your Excellency's most obedient & humble
