31st Dec.	38	Do. ..	New edition.	50	Do.	For distribution.	.....	"Peacock Message," as the title implies, is a new poem in Manipravalam style in two parts—the first containing 68 and the second 73 stanzas or slokas, or 141 in all—remarkable for their flowing diction, graphic description and poetic imagery and therefore considered a creditable specimen of classic Malayalam literature. The poem is based on the story of the author who unfortunately incurred the displeasure of his sovereign and was confined in a distant prison wherefrom he sends a message to his consort at home through his confidential servant Nilakantah, which means a peacock. It has some other recondite meaning also.
