As to whether the exemption applied for may be granted.

The Superintending Engineer before Boarding a man apparently wants that the man should be exempted permanently.

No reason whatever is assigned for the recommendation. It is submitted that there should be no objection to the man obtaining exemption if he has passed the primary exam in the District.

I agree with the U.S. that if we are having "exam" rules if they are not made exceptions on any special grounds. There seems to be no special reason whatever. The Govt. is always asking for exemptions.
