OFFICE NOTE No. 2991 A.

To

W.

With a view to qualify for advancement in the clerical establishment, a few clerks in my office applied in the prescribed form to the Secretary - to the Commissioner for Government Examinations for admission to the Precise writing test to be held in October 1895, but their applications have been returned with the intimation that as the clerks had not passed the prescribed general educational tests, they were not eligible under G.O.No.571 Educational dated 9th. July 1895, to appear for any of the special tests.

2. The order of Government above quoted has not been communicated to me, but having obtained a copy I find that the orders were based on the recommendation of the Commissioner for Government Examinations to the effect that in his opinion admission to the special tests should be restricted to those who have passed the Matriculation or the Upper Secondary Examination.

3. It appears to me that in the above recommendation, provision has not been made for persons who passed the late General Test which qualified for admission into the public service, who have for years been in that service, and who have hitherto been admitted to the special test under reference.

4. The Precis-writing test having been made compulsory on all those who draw Rs. 60 (vide G.O. No. III 5 W. dated 4th May 1894) the orders now issued will close the door against the advancement of all such servants; but as this was probably not intended, I would request that the question may be referred to the Educational Department in view to very early orders being passed to admit of the candidates from my office going up for the ensuing examination, for which fees have already been paid.
