Sir,

The Resident at Hyderabad in his endorsement dated 19th Instant N° 5414 Political, has intimated that the Kurnool Political Pensioner, N° 3 Ghulam Ghaus referred to in Appendix to G. O. dated 24th July 1891 N° 462 Political who was drawing a monthly stipend of Rs. 55, died at Hyderabad on the 23rd July 1894.

2.

The deceased has left two widows, one Shari Sham-sun-nisa Khātūn, issueless, aged 24 years,

and another ^{Nisa} Gafur-un-nisa Khatun aged 22 years. The latter has a son aged 4 years. The deceased's 1st wife Sahib Khatun
who died long ago, has left
a son Himmat Ali Khan
aged 19 years.

3. As noted in the remarks column of the appendix above mentioned, the widows are entitled to compassionate allow-ance the amount of which has now to be determined, as the pensioner is dead.

4 I have therefore the honor to submit the case for the orders of Government. An allowance of Rs 10 for each of the widows would probably be suf-ficient.

FOR ORDERS.

with reference to the notes

on pages 99b + 99c of the file.

Ghulam Ghaus is now dead. He has left (1) a shadi wife, (2) a nikahi wife & son, & (3) a son by a predeceased wife. As shown in the printed notes the pension of Ghulam Ghaus should, under the terms of the original grant, be ^{absolutely} resumed & the only reason for granting compassionate allowances to the widows & son is that ^{the families of} Ghulam Ghaus's ^{deceased} brother received exceptional treatment. The Collector of Karnool proposes Rs 10. for each of the widows. ~~Submitted~~ ^{Submitted} that the shadi widow would ordinarily receive five times as much as the nikahi, but the latter has, in this case, a son dependent on her. ^{the family would receive} Submitted that a very liberal treatment if the following compassionate grants, to be compulsorily commuted, were made.

Shadi widow — Rs 12.

Nikahi widow — " 10.

Son of predeceased wife " 5

I think these proposals may be accepted. They follow as nearly as possible the case of the brother of the deceased. In that case the shadi widow got 12 Rs. a month for herself and daughter. While the nikahi widow got 6. In this case the shadi widow will get 12 rupees for herself (she has no family) if she had a daughter we would make it 12 i.e. 8 Rs. for the daughter. The nikahi widow now gets 6 Rs. & with 4 Rs. for the son - wh. is in each case just half what the shadi widow gets (or rather would get if she had a child).

I therefore approve of the suggestions - but would separate the 10 Rs. for the nikahi widow into 6 Rs. for the widow and 4 for the son - allowing 5 Rs. for the son of the predeceased wife (it is not stated if she was shadi or nikahi). These various sums would then be all commuted. Care being taken that the amounts for the two sons are properly invested till they attain majority - (if deceased assuming they are both minors)
