MARCH.

Registration of Books.

Directing that the catalogue of books registered during the fourth quarter of 1894 be published in the Fort St. George Gazette and that copies be transmitted to the Secretary of State and the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

From Rao Bahadur V. KRISHNAMA CHARIAR, Registrar of Books, to the Director of Public Instruction, dated Madras, 27th February 1895, No. 74.

I have the honour to send on for submission to Government printed copies of the catalogue of publications registered during the last quarter of 1894.

2. The number of publications registered during the quarter is 231 or 46 more than the total for the corresponding quarter of 1893. Of these, 183 have been classed as "books" and 48 as "periodical" publications.

3. A re-classification of the registered works according to their languages shows that 49 are in English, 55 in Tamil, 90 in Telugu, 9 in Malayalam, Kanarese 3, Hindustani 2, Arabic 2 and Sanskrit 21.

4. More than 20 per cent. of the registered works are intended for educational purposes.

5. The usual brief notes on the contents of most of the registered publications are entered in the column of remarks.

6. Annexed is the printed statement containing the extract of entries of copyright registration of 81 works whose proprietors have secured the copyright, paying the prescribed fee except in the case of two works of the Educational department registered free of charge. The last six entries in this extract relate to works delivered for registration during the fourth quarter of 1891 and third quarter of 1894, but whose copyright has only been registered during the fourth quarter of 1894.

15th Oct.	241	8vo. ..	1st ..	1,000	Do.	4 0 0	V. Sáminádа Aiyar, Kumbakonam.	A celebrated poem of 400 stanzas composed by many poets throwing some light on the life and rule of the South Indian kings, on the moral conduct and virtues and duties of kings, and matters of fortification, maintenance of what is good for public safety and the like. There is a useful introduction containing brief biographical references to the poets that composed the stanzas and a collection of grammatical and explanatory notes and a glossary of difficult words at the end of the volume. With these useful features and a general interpretation of each stanza, this edition is likely to enable the Tamil student to bring the invigorating though more laborious method of European study to bear upon this work of olden-day literature. Copyright registered.

A new novelette written for a prize offered by some friends of female education or the social reform party in Rajahmundry, the heroine being an educated girl who chose a husband after a literary test in the art of poetry. The story tells of the troubles her young husband got into at the hands of a deceitful and heartless money-lender, the way in which she came to know them and relieved him by assuming the robe of a vakil and pleading as cleverly and conspicuously as Portia did in Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice, their travel to Benares in search of her parents, a boat amidst in a river on the way which cast them ashore at distant and unfamiliar spots, her search after the husband by travelling in the garbs of magician, her encounters with an intriguing and wicked minister of the Raja of Kalingapatam, where at last she meets again her husband, parents and brothers in the same town. The object of the story is apparently to illustrate what education, mental strength and moral courage can do for a woman in perilous times.

74	174	Pranaya Mahima or Subba Rao.	Telugu..	N. Tirunáráyana-swámi.	Fiction ..	Ánanda Press, Madras.	Messrs. V. Venkatakrishnamma Chetti and Sons, Printers; N. Tirunáráyana-swámi, Publisher.	December.	136	16mo..	1st ..	1,000	Printed.	0 8 0	.....	The force of companionship as the title signifies is apparently the first effort of an undergraduate at novel-writing. The hero of the novelette is a lively youth of the Kistna district named Subba Rao, and the story is written perhaps with the idea of counteracting the vicious tendencies and follies of youth, but the description and conversation of the youthful hero and other characters referring to his indulgence and that of some corrupt officials in the vile pleasures of a dancing girl's house, in clandestine proceedings with a widow of ill-repute and other improprieties and consequent quarrels and prosecutions are more likely to demoralise than improve young readers. The style is readable, though not always chaste, and the whole ends with the lesson of repentance felt by the hero, and by a telegram from Madras that he passed the Matriculation Examination of the University in the first class.

Súryanáráyana, Publisher.	27th Aug.	56	8vo. ..	1st ..	500	Do.	0 0 4	T. Súryanáráyana, Head Post Office Street, Rajahmundry.	This is another short and simple story, written apparently by some member of the social reform party, of Sanjivaraya, the son of a village purohit or priest in the Kistna district. The youth was educated at the Rajahmundry College by his maternal uncle against the wishes of his orthodox parents with whom he used to discuss chiefly against idolatry, infant marriage and various superstitious observances; and both he and his sister were married, the latter a girl eight years old being wedded to a widower 35 years old already spoilt by vicious life and extravagant expenditure, while Sanjivaraya the hero was married to his cousin educated by himself after he passed the University examination and got an employment. The rest of the story contrasts in detail the character of the educated wife of the hero and of his sister who was demoralised by her husband, and the whole ends with the regrets of the father who advises all Hindu parents to be careful in the choice of husbands for their daughters and moderate in their marriage expenses. The story though not always told in strictly grammatical Telugu thus contains something good along with something bad. It is however readable from beginning to end. Copyright registered.

g.	14	Do	1st ..	1,000	Do.	0 2 0	.....	A new ballad composed by a princess on the "Ambrosia robbed." Vinita, the mother of Garuda, a heavenly golden bird, became a slave of her sister in consequence of a deception practised by her. Garuda, being anxious to see his mother free from this bondage, asked her and her serpent progeny, what he should do to secure that end. "Get us the ambrosia brought with force from the Myriad eyed, Indra and your mother will be set at liberty" was the prompt reply. Garuda had to fight for it and trimphed at last with the ambrosia, the victorious bird returned and the liberty of his mother was thus purchased. The delighted serpent, mother and her numerous progeny go for their bath, and before their return, the much coveted ambrosia of the gods was carried away. They found the kusa grass over which it was placed by them, the only thing left behind, and by licking this eagerly their tongues got split into two

Office of the Registrar of Books,

Madras, 27th February 1895.

No. 74

From

Rao Bahadur V. KRISHNAMA CHARIAR,

Registrar of Books,

Madras,

To

The Director of Public Instruction,

Madras.

Hon'ble Sir,

I have the honor to send on for submission to Government printed copies of the Catalogue of publications registered during the last quarter of 1894.

2. The number of publications registered during the quarter is 231 or 46 more than the total for the corresponding quarter of 1893. Of these, 183 have been classed as "books" and 48 as "periodical" publications.

3. A reclassification of the registered works according to their languages shows that 49 are in English, 55 in Tamil, 90 in Telugu, 9 in Malayalam, Kanarese 3, Hindustani 2, Arabic 2, and Sanscrit 21.

4. More than 20 per cent of the registered works are intended for Educational purposes.

5. The usual brief notes on the contents of most of the registered publications are entered in the column of remarks.

6. Annexed is the printed statement containing the extract of entries of Copyright registration of 81 works whose proprietors have secured the copyright paying the prescribed fee, except in the case of two works of the Educational Department registered free of charge. The last six entries in this Extract relate to works delivered for registration during the 4th quarter of 1891 and 3rd quarter of 1894, but whose Copyright has only been registered during the fourth quarter of 1894.

I have the honor to be,
Honble Sir,
Your most Obedt. Servt.
