P.T.O.

This is from Cuddapah again. Not only the Rev. Dept. but other Depts. too seem to find great difficulty in getting passed men in this District. It is one of the educationally backward districts & there are probably very few Matriculates indeed in it, & men from other parts are not likely to be anxious to serve in such an unpleasant place.

It is not easy here to say that the Collector has not taken all possible steps to get passed men, & it may be that if these men are now turned out no others will be available. May not a special report upon the probability of the rule being workable hereafter be called for from the Collector, & these exemptions allowed meanwhile?

It looks almost as if the Ceded Districts wd. have to be treated differently from the rest of the Presidency in the matter of passed candidates in Govt. service, & some relaxatn. of the rules allowed there.

In ~~both~~ all the case applications from passed candidates were invited but none are available so exemptions must be granted in these cases, but the Collr. shd be told that Govt. believe that if he took more care about it that application of this sort wd not be necessary.

JG
6/1/96

Cuddapa has been a close preserve for the unpassed for years and the district is very much after the manner of a family living. It is true that the unpassed man is difficult to get and that when got he is prompt to leave as soon as he has a chance of anything better - that is if he is an outsider; but notwithstanding this I cannot believe that the difficulties of obtaining passed men are so great as is alleged. It is the native officials who belong the district and who wish to prevent poaching on their preserves who I feel sure are pretty much at the bottom of the trouble which is caused in filling up vacancies with qualified men. I believe that if Govt. puts its foot down as insisted that if passed men were not found the remainder of the staff would have to do the work as best they could there would be a change for the better ~~[illegible]~~. One thing is certain that if Govt. sits quiet and goes on exempting whenever an application is made no one will take the slightest trouble to see that fitting men are put into the vacancies which occur, and things will remain as bad as ever.

It is I submit high time that Govt. began to put the screw on.

Cs. ~~/~~ order No. 12 d/11 Jan 96.

Current 1371. and 1388.

The exemptions prayed for are sanctioned. 2. The Govt notices, however, that these applications ~~from~~ for exemption are submitted with more frequency from the Cuddapah District than from any other in the Presidency. ~~It is contravention to remark that~~ No good reason is apparent for this, and the Govt. looks to the Collector to see that every possible care & trouble is taken in future to obtain passed candidates and to obviate the necessity for frequent applications for exemption.
