SIR

I have the honour to state that in its order dated 10th August 1895, N^o 678, the Government considers that sufficient cause has not been shewn for moving the Government of India to include the Head Room of this School in the list given in Article 435, Civil Service Regulations. I have since placed myself in communication with the other Reformatory Schools in India to ascertain how the Head Wardens in those schools are treated. The Superintendents of the Reformatory Schools at Hazaribagh, Alipore, Gerrowda and Bareilly have written to say that all their Head Wardens are in Superior Service, and this is clear from Article 435, Civil Service Regulations, because Head Wardens in the jail department are included amongst the officers in Superior Service under that article.

2. As all other Reformatory Schools in India continue to be managed by the Jail Department, the term "Head Warder" which corresponds with the term "Head Peon" in this School, has been retained in those Schools, and the officers holding the former appointment are considered to belong to Superior Service; but because the officer who holds a corresponding post in this School is called "Head Peon" in order to avoid the nomenclature used in jails, that he should be deprived of the privilege given to the same class of officers in other Reformatory Schools, is, I submit, an anomaly which has only to be pointed out to Government to be rectified. In these circumstances I request you will be so good as to address Government once more on the subject of having the Head Peon of this School placed on the Superior Service Schedule.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

R. S. Cor.

SIR,

I have the honour to reply to your endorsement No. 4867 27.4.96 on the enclosed Memorandum No. 854 dated 22nd April 1896 from Government. The work of Head Wardens is not the same in all the other Reformatory Schools. At Yerrowda there is one Chief Head Warden on Rs 25 and two Head Wardens on Rs 15 each; at Alipur there are three Head Wardens on Rs 30, 15 and 12 respectively; at Hazaribagh there are a Chief Head Warden on Rs 20, and two Head Wardens on Rs 10 each, and at Bareilly there is only one Head Warden whose salary is not stated in the Superintendent's letter to me. All these Chief and Head Wardens belong to the Superior Service. There is, however, only one Head Peon is this School on Rs 15. The Special Constitution of this School which works on lines different from those of the other Reformatory Schools, does away with the necessity of such a highly paid officer as one in the position of a Chief Head Warden, ^{but} ~~and therefore~~ the duties and responsibilities of the Head Peon in this School are greater than those of a Head Warden.

2. The chief duties and responsibilities of the Head Peon are those detailed in the Comparative statement forwarded with this office letter dated 1st May 1895, No 816. As there is only one Head Warden at Bareilly it would be well to compare the duties of that officer with those of the Head Peon in this School. At Bareilly the Superintendent reports the Head Warden is "the Head of the Warden establishment and is under the Deputy Superintendent, responsible for the discipline of the warders and of the boys in the school. He also teaches the boys drill. In a general way his duties are similar to those of a Senior Head Warden in a jail." It is too much to expect the Head Peon to be responsible for the discipline of the boys. This responsibility is shared by the whole establishment from the Deputy Superintendent down to the last Peon; the Head Peon of course has his share of the responsibility also. The Head Peon does not teach drill nor does any of the Head Warders at Hazaribagh, because there, as in this School, there is a separate Drill Instructor. In other respects the duties of the Head Warden correspond with those of the Head Peon; but in addition to those duties the latter has to call the roll of the boys three times a day, weigh the boys once a month and register their weights, is in charge of petty stores, attends to sanitary arrangements and in short he is the only assistant of the Deputy Superintendent in all matters except office work and literary and technical education.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

There is insufficient ground to go up to the fort of I with the concomitant that the Head River should be treated as a Salmon River.
There is a great difference between Head lands of the Head River. The form is in charge of the whole of sum, summation, uniform & equievery direction of the lands fit of attendance of the standing guard, the men of scutcheon, relay &c. There are no duties, nothing similar to what Head River has to perform. The Head on the other hand is in charge of small stores; but on that as two store-keepers in the season is no necessity for two men.
