Sir,

The channel which carries off the rain water from the front of the Presidency College at present discharges itself down the slope at the north of the building and carries mud and water over the tennis Courts there. I have the honour, therefore, to request that you will arrange to lead the channel round so as to discharge into Major Louis's tank, or otherwise alter the present outlet so that the tennis Courts may not be spoiled. Possibly the alterations might be carried out as part of the arrangements for the wing now being constructed.

It seems a very heavy price to pay for such a convenience.
The tennis-courts could probably be removed or made else where for less money. Submitted that Govt may say so, & see if the cost cannot be reduced.
