OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras, 23 April 1897.

No. 4276

From

THE HONOURABLE MR. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D. Sc., LL.D.,

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras,

To

The Secretary to Government,

Local and Municipal Department,

(Thro' the Accountant-General),

Madras.

SIR,

Mr. Chatterton, Professor of Engineering, College of Engineering, now on furlough in Europe, requests that he may be placed on special duty for three months to enable him to visit a number of technical institutions and all the special trade schools in England that have any relation to the industries carried on, or likely to be started in Madras, and also to collect models, apparatus and specimens of work which would be of great use in India.

2. It will be seen from G.Os. Nos. 1666-W and 3432-W Public Works, dated 20th June and 12th December 1891 respectively, that Mr. Chatterton was once on special duty for a period of two years for the purpose of acquiring practical experience of large works.

3. As it is highly desirable that a Professor of Engineering of Mr. Chatterton's standing should gain some practical experience of the working of important institutions in Europe, I would strongly recommend that his request be complied with, and that he may be allowed such salary and allowances as he is entitled to under the rules.

4. I would add here that in its order No 318, Educational, dated 9th May 1894, Government, allowed Mr. Chatterton's stay in England on special duty for one month with a view to enable him to visit the important workshops and to acquaint himself with the recent progress in workshop practice and testing.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Director of Public Instruction.

SUBJECT.

Proposal to place Mr Chatterton on Special duty in England for visiting important technical institutions.

H. E. THE GOVERNOR.

THE HON'BLE MR. BLISS, C.I.E.

THE HON'BLE MR. GROSE, C.I.E.

FOR ORDERS.

It is no doubt desirable that Mr Chatterton should inform himself of the working of important technical institutions in Europe but the question is whether he should be placed on special duty for this purpose. Mr Chatterton could have visited these institutions during his furlough. From G.O. no. 193 Bd & 30th March 96, it will be seen that Dr Wilson visited technical institutions and collected specimens for the Presidency College during his furlough and that he was not placed on special duty for the purpose. From para 8 of Dr Duncan's letter in G.O. no. 590 Bd & 10th Sept. 96 also it will be seen that educational officers generally avail themselves of their furlough to visit important institutions &c. and to make themselves

B.S. I now add that it is proposed on his return to lay on Mr Chatterton the duty of inspecting all the technical and industrial schools in this Presidency in which Engineering subjects are taught and in which ordinary work in wood and iron is carried on.

If Govt agrees with the Director that Mr. Chatterton should be placed on Special duty, the S of S will have to be addressed. Orders are solicited.

Office

The D.P.I. says that Mr. Chatterton on his return will be placed on Special duty to inspect all the Technical & Industrial Schools in the P. in which Eng. Subjects are taught. How many of these are there?

S. H. Roy

There are only four institutions in which Eng. Subjects are taught - Chengalvaraya Nayak's Commercial School, Madras, Allent Victor Technical Institute & St. Joseph's College Special Class Trichinopoly & London Mission Special class, Vizagapatnam. There are sixteen schools in which Carpentry is taught. The D.P.I. seems to include Carpentry under Eng. subjects.

The Director does not, it is respectfully submitted submitted, propose to place Mr. Chatterton on Special duty for inspecting these institutions. He means that the duty of inspecting these schools annually for purposes of giving grants will be imposed on the Prof. of Eng. This is the same as the proposal made in para 6 of the D.P.I.'s letter in G.O. no. 551 dated 11th Sept. 96 - vide page C. This duty is not new; Mr. Chatterton has all along been doing this: he has inspected the Allent Victor Technical Institute, the Madras Technical Institute & has reported on them.

7/15/97

On what furlough is Mr. Chatterton? This does not seem to be in the file on furlough to Europe for 15 months from 30th Sept. 1896 - vide page 171 of the Quarterly Civil List

S. H. Roy

H. M.

This does not seem to be at all a case in which to place the officer on Special duty - either extending the term of his leave or converting a portion of it into duty — and thus entailing an extra charge on the finances. It will be sufficient to ask the S. & S. to procure him facilities for inspecting the institutions in question. Many officers ask no more.

S.P. 19/5/77.

I agree. This is not too heavy for incurring an extra charge for which no necessity has been shown

In the present straitened state of the finances the Govt. is unable to sanction the proposal of the D.P.I. to place Mr Chatterton on Special duty for three months to enable him to inspect important technical and special trade schools in England and to make himself acquainted with their practical working. The Govt. considers that it will be sufficient to procure him facilities for inspecting the institutions which he may wish to visit; and the Secy of State will be ~~addressed~~ ^{addressed} accordingly.
