OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras, 12 May 1897.

No. 5180

From

THE HONOURABLE MR. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D. Sc., LL.D.,

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras,

To

The Secretary to Government,

Local and Municipal Department.

SIR,

The first edition of 300 copies of the College Manual on Building Materials and Construction, which was issued in 1894, being almost exhausted, the Principal of the College of Engineering requests sanction for the publication of a second and revised edition to consist of 750 copies and recommends that a remuneration of Rs.500 be granted to Sergeant Reynolds, the author, to whom will be entrusted the work of revision under the supervision of the Principal. For the first edition Mr. Reynolds was given a remuneration of only Rs.250 in G.O. No 947 Educational, dated 10th December 1894; but he now asks Rs.500 on the ground that the remuneration given him for the first edition was very inadequate and that, when he accepted it, he had no idea of the amount of work he had to do. Both the Principal and the Acting Professor of Engineering are of opinion that the remuneration now sought is by no means too much, and I beg to support their recommendation.

2. Major Love estimates the cost of publishing the 750 copies at Rs.2062 approximately, or Rs.2.75 per copy (the cost of publishing the first edition being Rs.2.43 per copy), and the cost of drawing fresh plates at Rs.60, which, with the honorarium of Rs.500 recommended for Sergeant Reynolds, will make the total cost to Government Rs. 2622. He proposes to fix the price of each copy at Rs. 4, which would leave a profit to Government of Rs. 378 (750 X 4 or Rs. 3000 - Rs. 2622). But these figures are only approximate and the price of the book will have to be fixed after the work has been completed.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

S. G. Guman

Director of Public Instruction.
