R.

C. Taylor will be temporarily exempted from the exam. rules in view of his employment in the office of the Chief Engineer for Irrigation.

SUBJECT.

Mr C Taylor, a Tracer in I.R. office - application for exemption of - from examination rules - Forwarded

H.H. The reason for the exemption does not seem sufficient to warrant Govt. in setting aside the rules. The man has one way or another managed to keep himself going in the D.W. office for some years: but it would be impossible to assert that there are no persons qualified as officers available. It is not the part of those who have passed the Draughtsman's test, that it is hard on the individual cannot be helped.

As the work is done in this office is that of a tracer, it is proposed to employ Mr. Taylor who has 8 years 4 months practical experience of similar work in the T.R.S. Office, in preference to a passed candidate who is not likely to do the work as efficiently as Mr. Taylor. Mr. Taylor's exemption from the examination rules while employed in this office is therefore requested.

The reason for exemption is not sufficient

Order No. 545 of 27-9-97.

The post is unable to find any sufficient reason for granting the exemption sought. The application must therefore be rejected.
