All that and he said is that so long as he holds his present appointment he need not pass any other appointment in connection with it, but whether a vernacular is necessary in it or not can be considered.

SUBJECT.

Enquiring whether the exemption from passing in a vernacular granted to Mr. Allen under the terms of his agreement will be in force even after the re-engagement after the expiry of five years.

From the G.O. quoted it seems quite clear

7/3 12/4/98

That no vernacular qualification is required of the Professor of History so long as he remains in that appointment.

a/lh 14/2/98 I take it that if there is to be a special re-engagement, it might be on the same terms as the engagement; i.e. including vernacular; but that if he stays on under cl. 8 of his agreement (flag E.) he comes under the ordinary rules & must pass. If so, an exception might be made in his favour, allowing him Sanallot. H.T. 18-2-98

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
Madras, February 1898.

No. 1201

From

THE HONOURABLE MR. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D.Sc. LL.D.,

DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

Madras,

To

The Secretary to Government,

Educational Department.

SIR,

With reference to G.O. No 654 Educational dated 19th instant, I have the honour to state that, according to the agreement entered into by Mr. Allen with the Secretary of State, he was engaged only for a period of five years and it is open to Government to re-engage him or not at the expiration of this period. As the omission from the agreement of any clause requiring him to pass the Vernacular test was intentional, I am inclined to think that the exemption from passing in the vernacular covers only the period embraced by the agreement under which he has been so exempted, and that he will, if re-engaged, be bound by the ordinary rules regulating the study of Oriental languages by European and Eurasian officers of this Department. I beg to request that definite orders may be passed on this point.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

D. Duncan

Director of Public Instruction.
