SIR,

I have the honour to request that Government will be pleased to authorize the Accountant-General to pass charges on account of 'Section-Writing' up to the limit of Rs 600, the amount sanctioned for this purpose under 'Supplies and Services' for the current official year in G.O. No. 688, Financial, dated the 13th October 1896.

2. The charges above referred to are on account of the wages of men temporarily engaged for the preparation and printing of nominal and other lists in connexion with the various examinations under my control and have always been incurred

As

As in the sanctioned budget for 1897-98, the charges have been classed under 'Section-Writing', the Accountant-General considers the special sanction of Government necessary for incurring such charges under article 98(C) of the Civil Account Code.

Ag. COMMISSIONER FOR GOVERNMENT EXAMINATIONS,

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT,

SIR,

With reference to your Memorandum No. 1378, Educational, dated 3rd July 1897, I have the honour to state that the temporary establishment sanctioned in G. O. No. 170, Educational, dated 22nd March 1897, is required to help the permanent establishment in coping with the ordinary current work of the Office which, of late years, has greatly increased. The necessity for it is explained in Dr. Duncan's letter to Government dated 17th September 1891, No. 1215, submitting the Budget Estimate. It was to overtake the growing work of the Office that in 1891 a sum of Rs 500 was provided in the Budget for 1892-93 for a temporary establishment, and this provision, barely adequate

adequate for the purpose, has since been repeated in succeeding budgets. It was intended to strengthen the office permanently by the addition of this temporary establishment, (Vide G. O. dated 30th March 1894, No 207, Ed.), and the best way, perhaps, of looking at the temporary Establishment is to regard it as virtually forming part of the regular establishment.

2 The Section-writers for whom provision has also been made in the Budget for 1897-98 to the extent of Rs 600, are required for a different purpose. Their business is chiefly to check the very numerous applications received, to prepare the nominal lists for the several examinations, and, also, to do a great deal of miscellaneous work in connection with these Examinations, and much of this business does not strictly, perhaps, fall under the definition of Section-writing given in Article 98(c) of the Civil Account Code.

3. In G. O. dated 13th October 1893, No 755, Educational, Government was pleased to sanction certain proposals made by Dr. Duncan in view to increasing the Office Establishment, which proposals, however, were not to be carried out till after the reorganization of the Educational Department, the scheme relating to which was then before Government. Had these proposals been carried out, what has hitherto been regarded as the temporary establishment would have become merged in the permanent establishment, and what is now applied for under the head of Section-writing would have been described as 'temporary establishment.'

The reorganization of the Educational Department, however, has not yet been accomplished and, consequently, effect has not been given to the order of Government sanctioning the increase to the Office Establishment.

4. The charges now made for Section-writing are, it must be explained, no new charges. They are the ordinary charges of every year, shown for the first time under a new designation. In former years the practice used to be to draw advances of money from time to time as they were required, and to apply for and obtain the formal sanction of Government to all the expenditure incurred as soon as possible after the close of the official year when all the charges on account of the several examinations held during

during the year had been paid, and the accounts for the year closed. The charges now shown under the head of Section-writing used to be described as charges incurred in connection with the preparation and printing of the nominal lists under each examination, the term 'Section-writing' never having been used in this Office. But now, under the system that came into force last year, a permanent advance of Rs 500 is held, and whatever portion of this advance is expended, is recovered from the Accountant-General on the submission of detailed bills. The charges referred to above as having always been sanctioned by Government in previous years having now to be shown under Section-writing in these detailed bills, the Accountant-General requires the sanction of Government, although provision has been made for such charges in the Budget.

not as Section-writing

Pay B

5. Owing to the nature of the work that is performed by the men engaged as Section-writers whenever an examination has to be arranged for, it is not easy to specify 'the number of words to be copied per Rupee and the rate for tabular work'.

It is observed, however, that under Artic 98 (c), 'Sanction may be given to the expendit of a specified maximum sum in a fixed period', and if Government will be pleas to accord the required sanction, the bills submitted to the Accountant-General will 'state the number of persons paid and the amount of matter'. I do not know whether the course now suggested is open to objection. If, for any reason, it cannot be adopted, it seems to me the only way out of the difficulty is to treat these Section-writers as additional tem-porary clerks and to sanction their employment accordingly.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

SIR,

In returning herewith the papers received with Government Memorandum No. 1665 dated 7th August 1897, I have the honour to state that the Commissioner for Government Examinations is correct in stating, in para 4 of his letter No. 162/D dated 2nd August 1897, that the charges of section-writing are not new. Till August 1896, all charges in connection with the various Government Examinations were in the first instance drawn in advance and they were afterwards finally admitted on receipt of Government sanction which was obtained at the close of each Official year for all such expenditure incurred du the year. But with the issue of Government Ord

-ing a permanent advance of Rs 500 to the Office of the Commissioner for Government Excami-
-nations, this practice was discontinued and Govern-ment sanction is now required previous to payment.

As regards the proposals of the Commissioner in para 5 of the letter mentioned above, there is no account objection to Government sanctioning the expenditure of a specified maximum for a year under Article 98(c) of the Civil Account Code.
Indeed I support the proposal as the Section-
-writing charges are more properly debitable to contingencies.
The grant of a lump sum on account of Temporary Establishment in compliance with the Commissioner's second proposal seems objectionable, as under Article 57 of the Civil Account Code such proposals should be accompanied by a proposition statement shewing details of establishment. If, however, Government delegates to the Commissioner the power of sanctioning temporary establishments subject to any limit as to cost which Government may fix, this office has no objection to make.

Charges for Section writing in the Office of the Com for Govt Exams.

FOR ORDERS.

In the first of the current read above, the Comm: for Govt Exams: requested sanction for engaging Section-writers at an annual cost of Rs 600. He was thereupon asked to explain the necessity for engaging Section-writers in addition to the temporary establishment sanctioned in G.O. no. 170 Ed. Dt 22nd March 1897 and to specify the number of men employed as Section-writers & the rate of remuneration given to them. In C.no. 898, the Comm: replied that the charges for Section-writing was not new & that they had been incurred every year and shown under a separate heading. As regards the second point, he stated that the rate of remuneration

flag A

the Section-writers as required by Art 98(c) of the C.A Code could not be given and suggested that sanction might be given to the expenditure of a specified maximum sum in a fixed period. or that sanction might be given to the employment of additional temporary clerks. The A.G. to whom the current was referred states that the charges for Section-writing is not new & that sanction might be given to the expenditure of a specified maximum sum in a fixed period. He is not in favour of the grant of a lump sum on account of temporary establishment. He will however have no objection if the Comms. is authorised to sanction temporary establishment subject to a certain limit as to cost. In G.O. no 170 / 22-3-97 Ed sanction is accorded for the expenditure of Rs 500 on temporary establishment & no proposition statement showing details of establishment was submitted in this case. This is then in the nature of a lump sum sanction for Section-writing.

In any way the proposals of the Commissioner amount to an application for the grant of a lump sum of Rs 1100 (Rs 500 + Rs 600) to meet the cost of temporary establishment on section writing. The grant applied for appears to be much too large. Orders are solicited as to whether the addl. Rs 600 applied for may be sanctioned?

Attention is invited to para 2 of Cno. 898, from which it will appear that the section-writers are entrusted with the important work of checking the applications received from the candidates for examination. This work should, it seems, be entrusted to some responsible clerk of the Comm's Office.

The D.P.I may be asked about this also

We may ask the D.P.I. what limit he would suggest, pointing out that there is already a limited grant of R 500.

NOTE FOR THE SECRETARY.

An ord. to the Commissioner for Govt Buildings is put up as ordered. But it will be seen from the linked file that the Commissioner has provided Rs 1450 for "Temporary Clerks in the Secretary's office." in the budget for 1898-99. This provision is Rs 350 more than the amount which he requires for the current year. The amount is excessive and has been reduced in the draft review to Rs 900. In this connection the attention of the Secy is drawn to the provision of Rs 2200 for "Extra coolies & bearers" under Supplies & Services. The budget-estimate for the current year is Rs 1200. This expenditure seems to have been increased by leaps & bounds. In 1893-94, the expenditure under this head was Rs 786; in 1894-95 it was 896; in 1895-96 it increased to Rs 1968 (more than double the previous year expenditure) & in 96-97 it again rose to Rs 2195. This expenditure was never specially sanctioned by Go Govt. It is not known how the A.G. admitted these charges. In the draft review the provision has been reduced to Rs 1500; but it seems capable of further reduction. It can not be conceived why extra costing Rs 2200 should be employed for examination purposes & how the expenditure which was limited to Rs 800 before 1894-95 increased to Rs 2000 in 1895-96. Adding the two items (Rs 1450 + Rs 2200) it will be seen that the Comm has provided Rs 3650 for temporary establishment in his office.

Cuo 1070 was detained to see what orders will be passed on cuo 687 &c. regarding the provision for temporary establishment in the Comm's office.

THE HON'BLE MR. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D.Sc., LL.D., COMMISSIONER FOR GOVERNMENT EXAMINATIONS,

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT,
Fort St. George.

SIR,

With reference to your memorandum No. 2144, Educational, dated 15th October 1897, I have the honour to state that the amount of Rs 600, to the expenditure of which the sanction of Government was requested in my letter of the 14th June, No. 119/10, is not in excess of the actual requirements of my office. As already explained, the charges for which the amount is needed are not new charges, but have been regularly incurred for some years without being objected to. Unfortunately, according to the new system that has been adopted, they are shown for the first time this year under the designation

designation of 'Section-writing', and objection is taken. It is true that a sum of Rs 500 has since 1891-92 been annually sanctioned for 'temporary establishment', but this temporary establishment has always been employed in the regular routine work of the office, and it was intended eventually to make it part and parcel of the permanent establishment. As in addition to this so called temporary establishment, hands have to be engaged from time to time whenever an examination has to be arranged for, to help in the preparation of the nominal lists and in other work of a miscellaneous character, it was thought that the charges on this account might be shown under the head of 'Section-writing' for which the amount of Rs 600, (subsequently raised to Rs 700 in the revised Budget estimate for 1897-98) was sanctioned under the head of 'Supplies and Services' in G.O. No 688, Financial, dated 13th October 1896. It would, no doubt, be better if the work that the Section-writers are required to do, could be entrusted to members of the permanent establishment, but as I have tried to explain in previous letters, the work of the office has so greatly increased within the last few years, that the permanent establishment cannot cope with it successfully. It was simply impossible that an establishment which barely sufficed before the institution of the Primary and Technical Examinations and before the Middle School Examination grew to what it was, could be equal to the performance of the additional work which was thrown upon the Office after the institution of these examinations. The Primary Examination alone brought into existence thirty subordinate offices, — those of the Chairmen of the several Boards of Examiners, — with which correspondence is carried on throughout the year, while the Technical Examinations which are held twice a year in as many as eighty eight subjects, require, from their nature, the utmost care and attention, and involve very considerable labour. I hope, therefore, that Government will not insist on a reduction in the amount asked for, under whatever head it may be decided to place it, — 'Section-writing' or 'temporary establishment'. I am now considering

in

in what way the Commission as a whole might, as in former years, be made self-supporting and I hope soon to be able to submit to Government proposals which, while strengthening the permanent establishment and doing away with Section-writers and temporary establishment, will result, I believe, in the avoidance of a deficit. I beg to assure Government that endeavours are being made to reduce expenditure, and how far these endeavours have been successful will appear from the fact that although the Primary and Technical Examinations never will and never can pay their expenses, and were never expected to, the deficit last year was only Rs 2493 against Rs 12,646 in 1895-96, and Rs 27,075 in 1894-95.

Charges for Section-writing in the Office of the Commr for Govt Examns

FOR ORDERS.

Cur.687, d/ 14-6-97	Commissioner asks that authority may be given to Accountant-General to pass Rs. 600 for Section writing provided in Budget under Supplies and Services. Flag E
O.M., No.1378, 3-7-97	He is asked to explain need of section writers in addition to Temporary Establishment sanctioned in G.O. 22-3-97 (This referred to a provision in the Budget "Temporary clerks in Secretary's office").
Cur.898 , 2-8-97	Commissioner explains that 500 for Temporary establishment has been sanctioned since 91 (Flag F) to deal with the constantly increasing work of the office e.g. with 50 Boards of Examiners-pending reorganization. It virtually forms part of the regular establishment. Section-writers on the other hand are wanted to check the very numerous applications, to prepare nominal lists for examinations, and do miscellaneous work in connection with examinations. The charges are not new, but used to be paid out of advances drawn, sanctioned afterwards by Govt. But from 96, a permamnent advance of Rs. 500 being constituted, the charges are now billed for thence and the Accountant-General requires formal sanction.

Accountant-General consulted.	O.M.No.1665,d/ 7-8-97.
Accountant-General agrees charges are not new, and corroborates Commissioner. Consents that Government should sanction specified maximum for a year under 98 C.Civil Account Code., or that Govt. should delegate to Commissioner power of sanctioning temporary establishment subject to limit.	Cur.No.1005,d/ 1-9-97.
Government is not prepared to sanction 600 for "temporary establishment" in addition to 500 provided. What amount less than 600 will suffice ? Cannot checking of applications be done by permanent staff ? Flag M	O.M.No.2144,d/15-10-97.
Commissioner says 600 is necessary and amplifies explanation of 2-8-97. His letter is full and seems convincing.	Cur.No.1444,d/4-12-97.
The Ag.Commissioner sent in his budget in which with reference to Accountant General's letter, he lumped Temporary Establishment (formerly 500) with Section-writing (formerly 600), but he raised the sum to 1450.	Meanwhile, viz., Cur.No.1070,d/15-9-97	Note, dated 15-11-97.	In noting on this, the office remarked that the Accountant-General had objected to pass the expenditure on section-writing without the sanction of Govt. This is literally true , but may hot have been fully understood; the Accountant-General had required formal sanction as explained above. The office also noted that the expenditure in 95-96 had been only 418, but it omitted to state that the figure for 96-7 were 678, otherwise it would have been seen that a provision of 600 was only reasonable. It suggested a reduction of the combined amounts from 1450 proposed and 1100 in current year to 900. H.M. approved.
		G.O.No.674,d/ 23-11-97.	G.O.issued, fixing 900, pending receipt of report from Commissioner which has been called for separately" (referring to O.M.of 15-10-97). That O.M.having been answered conclusively by ~~Director~~ Commissioner, it would seem that the sanction for Rs. 600 asked for in the first letter quoted should be given. It is a question also whether the provision in next year's Budget should not be raised to 1100.
		I think it should be raised. JG 7/2/98	H.T. 4.2.98.

Note - I have consulted the Chief Supt in charge of the Finl Dept on the question of raising the provision for temporary est. by Rs 200. He states that it is now too late to make any alterations in the budget for 1898-99 and that as the budget figures are given in thousands, the A.G. will not accept an increase of Rs 200 unless a corresponding reduction is made in some other item. He also states that an addl allotment of Rs 200 can be sanctioned in 1898-99, if the provision now made is found insufficient. Para 2 of the draft is in accordance with this Suggestion.

Desptd 16/2/98
