REVENUE DE.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following Reference of

Board of Rev: Sep: Rev: No: 79, d/24th January 1899:--

Reference:--

In approving in G.O. No: 869, Revenue, d/12 ober 1897, the Board's proposals for the compilation of and departmental manuals and for the revision of the Excise Manual, Govt: ordered the addition to the scheme of the Excise Manual, as outlined by the Board, of a chapter dealing with the chemistry of the manufacture of salt and saltpetre and the methods pursued in this Presidency. A chapter was accordingly prepared, but it consists necessarily very largely of extracts from the standard works on the subject, particularly Ratton's Hand-Book of Common Salt. The copyright for this work being still in existence the Board has been in correspondence with Dr: Ratton and the publishers with a view to securing authority to publish the chapter, but has been unable to come to any satisfactory arrangement with them. It has also attempted to make use of the Chemical knowledge of the Abkari Dy: Commissioner and to substitute a fresh chapter in which a disquisition by him on the purely chemical part of the subject should be followed by an account of the systems in force in the Presidency drawn from official reports, the property of Govt:.. But the Abkari Dy: Commissioner says that he is unable to contribute such a chapter without first studying the methods employed at some of the Factories. The Board accordingly proposes to ask him to furnish the chapter in the course of the ensuing year and in the meanwhile to issue the manual without it, and requests the sanction of Govt: to this

I The proposal, if sanctioned, will involve the addition of a third paper to the two prescribed for test B in the examinations sanctioned in G.O. No:497, Educational, August 1898, on the chemistry of salt and saltpetre, particulars as regards the time allowed and the percentage marks required for a pass being the same as for the other branches, and the text books the same as they were before the change of examination was changed.

Order thereon, No:499, Mls, dated the 3rd February 1899.

The proposal to omit from the Salt Manual the chapter on the chemistry of Salt and Saltpetre manufacture is sanctioned.

2. Orders will issue in the Educational Department on the changes proposed in the last sentence of the Board's Proceedings.
