SIR,

In the issue of the Athenæum of the 1st Instant, there is a quotation from the Englishman, which states that, in answer to a Memorial from Mr. Toogood of the Bengal Civil Service, the President in Council had resolved that to all Civilians who had been ordered out from England, six months before the expiry of their leave, shall draw from the date of his first appointment to act in any Office till the time of his confirmation, such allowances as will equal the pay of the Office he held on his quitting India on furlough. I have the honor to request you will inform me whether this resolution has been communicated to the Madras Government, and, if so, in what form I can act upon it, as my case partially comes under its operation.
