In forwarding the Tabular Statement, it was pointed out that if the whole of the Treasury Stamping Department were absorbed into the Stamp Office, some arrangement for increasing the Gollahs belonging to the Treasury would become necessary, and the Government were pl ased to order this matter to be submitted separately for sanction. The whole of the Stamping Dep rtment shown in "the present scale" has for the last 15 years, and upwards, been employed indifferently in the general duties of the Treasury, as well as in the Stamping Department, and in consequence of the moderate issue of Stamps, only a portion of this Establishment has really been required for counter-stamping papers. In regard to the Gollahs in particular, the whole seven have been constantly available when required for giving out or storing Silver or Copper Coin in large quantities. After the withdrawal of these seven men, the Treasury is left with only one head Gollah and three Gollahs, a number quite insufficient for the duties of the Office. It is of course the practice to entertain from day to day extra Gollahs as large receipts or payments render it necessary, but these extra hands require to be employed in conjunction with the Gollahs on the permanent Establishment. In the responsible duty of handling money in large sums, it is [illegible] porary and occasional assistants, who have but little to lose by any dishonesty. Under these circumstances, I hope Government will be pleased to sanction an increase of two Gollahs on 7 Rupees each for the permanent Establishment of the Treasury, this being the smallest number which I think will suffice. As the increase has been caused by the revision and reconstruction of the Stamp Office, and as this latter has been ordered to be carried out at once, I beg to request that this increase of Rupees 14 a month, may also be sanctioned, and allowed in anticipation of orders from the Government of India. (Signed) W. BALMAIN, Offg. Sub Treasurer.	Favorable.

* Rupee one is given to this individual as an increase in the late Classification under G. O. dated 23rd June 1860, No. 300, but will revert to the Treasury on the transfer of the Treasury Stamping Establishment of which the total amount is 98-12-0.

† This has been transferred to the Superintendent of Stamps.
