The Governor in Council declines to sanction any increase to the Establishment of Peons attached to the Military Accountant's Office, for the purpose of watching premises at night.

2. It appears, from the letter from the Accountant General, recorded in the foregoing Proceedings, that only one Peon was employed on that duty in the late Office of the Civil Paymaster. If it cannot be undertaken by the Military Accountant's present Establishment, the Controller, as head of the Military Account Department, will arrange for the Peons of the Department generally, taking the duty in turn, pending the modifications contemplated by the Bengal Authorities.
