Proceedings of the Madras Government, Financial Department, 30th May 1870.

No. 63. Read the following Proceedings of the Government of India in the Financial Department, dated Fort William, 28th April 1870, No. 2632 :—

Accounts.]

Read—

The Budget Estimates of Receipts for 1870-71 under VII. "Salt" of the several Local Governments and Administrations.

The Estimates of the Inland Commissioner of Customs for receipts under this head in the Central Provinces, Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and the Punjab.

RESOLUTION.—The amounts estimated by the Local Governments and Administrations, and those adopted by the Government of India, are as follow :—

	Local.	Imperial.
	RS.	RS.
Oudh	17,900	18,000
Central Provinces...	24,44,300	12,00,000
British Burmah...	1,17,860	1,20,000
Bengal	2,50,26,500	2,60,00,000
North-Western Provinces...	49,75,700	56,35,700
Punjab	86,40,338	90,00,000
Madras	1,25,00,000	1,30,00,000
Bombay...	72,99,050	68,00,000
Total.....	6,10,21,648	6,17,73,700

2. Under Oudh a round sum of Rupees 18,000 has been substituted for the local estimate.

3. The estimate of the Central Provinces, Rupees 24,44,300, having included transfers of duty realized in Madras and Bombay on salt for those Provinces, it has been reduced to Rupees 12,00,000, as such transfers will not be made.

4. For British Burmah a round sum of Rupees 1,20,000 has been adopted in lieu of the local estimate of Rupees 1,17,860.

5. In Bengal the receipts from salt in 1870-71 are estimated by the Local Government at Rupees 2,50,26,500, to which the Commissioner of Inland Customs has added Rupees 4,85,000, viz., Rupees 4,75,000 on account of Customs duty on salt, and Rupees 10,000 on account of fees on licenses, making together a total of Rupees 2,55,11,500. There is some difficulty in estimating with accuracy the effect of the extension of the Land Customs Line. In the regular estimate for 1869-70 the receipts from salt have been estimated at Rupees 2,58,35,000, and the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to adopt Rupees 2,60,00,000 as the most probable income under this head in 1870-71.

6. To the local estimate of the North-Western Provinces has been added Rupees 6,60,000 on account of expected realizations from the Sambhur Lake salt.

7. As in the Punjab the prospects are very satisfactory and there has been a speedy rise in spite of the scarcity, the Governor-General in Council has considered it proper to raise the local estimate to Rupees 90,00,000. The latest estimate for 1869-70 is Rupees 88,00,000.

8. The original local estimate for Madras, Rupees 1,25,00,000, has been raised to Rupees 1,30,00,000, with reference to the revised estimate submitted by the Accountant-General.

9. Under Bombay the local estimate which appeared too high has been reduced from Rupees 72,99,050 to Rupees 68,00,000, or nine lacs above the regular estimate for 1869-70. The increased duty and probable development of trade with the new railways seem to warrant the adoption of the figure assumed in the Budget.

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Financial Department,
30th May 1870.

Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be sent to the several Local Governments and Accountants-General concerned, to the Comptroller-General of Accounts, and to the Commissioner of Inland Customs, for information.
