No. 141. To the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, dated Fort St. George, 28th November 1872, No. 1590.

Referring to the rule which prescribes that, after thirty-five years' service from date of arrival, no Covenanted Civil Servant shall be appointed to any new office or permitted to retain one which he has held for five years, I am directed to request early instructions as to whether promotion to a higher grade in a Board of several members, drawing different rates of pay but performing the same duties, is such a promotion to a new office as to carry with it retention of the higher paid post for five years irrespective of the length of the incumbent's service.
