No. 97. Read the following letter from the Officiating Comptroller-General, Calcutta, to all Accountants-General, dated Calcutta, 26th February 1872, Circular No. 129 :—

Covenanted Civil Service Pensions.

Referring to paragraph 7 of this Office Circular, No. 128, dated 9th instant, I have the honour to state that annuities now paid to members of the Bengal Civil Service from any treasury under your control should continue to be paid to them; but all payments made after the close of the current financial year must be debited to a new head of account "Covenanted Civil Service Pensions," subordinate to Superannuation instead of, as hitherto, to the Fund. In future, instructions will be issued to you from this office whenever applications are made for similar payments from Indian Treasuries.

2. When Bengal Civil Servants are lent under the terms of Financial Resolution, No. 4359, dated 14th October last, to Native States, Municipalities or other bodies financially independent of Government, and their pay is not disbursed from Government Treasuries, these officers should be requested to pay in cash into the nearest public treasury the equivalent of the four per cent. deduction on account of pension due from them, to credit of Government under "Miscellaneous Receipts."

3. As it is important that this office should be kept informed whether the deductions referred to are duly made, you will be good enough to open an additional head, as per margin, in the Form of "List of Her Majesty's servants belonging to the Bengal Civil Establishment," which are annually furnished by you to this office for submission to Government.

"Period during which pension deductions have been levied on all allowances."

N. B.—If not for whole year, the months when it was not collected, must be named.
